

6 SCHOOL BDS. ARE FAVORING MERGER PLAN

The merger referendum in the Gettysburg Joint School District which will come to a decision at the polls next Tuesday has the support of 26 of the district's 37 directors with seven opposed and four not committed, a survey Friday showed.

All directors in Gettysburg borough and Straban Twp. are on record in favor of the merger and majorities of the boards in Cumberland, Freedom, Highland and Mt. Joy Townships are backing the merger. The Times was told while only in Franklin Twp. has the school board gone on record against the plan.

In a statement announced by Robert H. Deardorff, president of the Gettysburg borough board, the seven members of that body said they "wish to announce they are unanimously in favor of the proposed merged school district" and indicated they believe a merger would be "best for the advancement of education, best for the school children and best for the people in the area served by the present school district."

HOW TOWNSHIPS STAND

Two weeks ago the Straban Twp. board announced its unanimous backing of the merger referendum and went ahead with promotional circulars to urge township residents to vote for the merger.

After a meeting of the Cumberland Twp. board Thursday evening, President Paul Waybright said that board stands "four to one" in favor of the merger.

The Freedom Twp. board also was in session Thursday evening with four members present. All four were in favor of the merger but could not state the position of the lone absentee.

The Highland Twp. board met earlier in the week and reported a majority of its members in favor of the merger and with one opposed and the fifth member not committed.

A spokesman for the Mt. Joy board said "a majority" of that five-man board is in favor of the merger.

24 TO 7 IN JANUARY

About two weeks ago the Franklin Twp. board sent letters home with school children urging taxpayers to vote against the merger.

When the joint board decided last January to petition the court to have the merger question put on the ballot, the roll call vote showed 24 in favor to seven opposed. Today's survey shows two more on record as favoring the merger while the figure of seven opposed remains the same.

The merger will be effective only in those districts voting in favor of it next Tuesday. Districts which do not vote for a merger will continue under the joint school district arrangement.

Speaking on the theme "Christian Action for Freedom" from information gained while on a visit to Africa several years ago, she told of church and family life in the heart of that country, Nairobi in Kenya, a British Colony. Having studied at Oxford for a year on the problems there she visited the country and saw the Mau Mau effect on the lives of the under-privileged natives.

Mrs. Richard Dean, chairman, presided. Mrs. Earl Shears led the devotional service. Mrs. Wayne VanDyke, accompanied by Mrs. John Coleman, sang "The Song of a Father's Love."

TO ASK 240 OPINIONS ON "WHITE WAY"

Two hundred forty Gettysburg residents next week will receive ballots asking them to state their preference on the "Great White Way" street lights in the center of the town.

The 240 were selected by the Gettysburg Junior Chamber of Commerce as a representative group to give a "fair and impartial" indication of the town's viewpoint on the proposed changes to the lighting system.

Meeting Friday afternoon at the Lamp Post tea room, the committee headed by Robert Wieland made a final check on the plans for the poll as worked out with the advice of the U.S. Department of the Census, the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, the faculty of Gettysburg College and others.

PROFESSIONAL HELP

Avery Sheaffer, of the sociology department of Gettysburg College, aided by Charles Platt of the psychology department and Robert Fryling of mathematics department helped set up the questions and determined the method of sampling, Wieland said.

From Dr. Philip Enterline, the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and Dr. R. Losee, mathematical statistician, observation division, U. S. Census Bureau, the Jaycees received governmental information used to work out random sampling to "guarantee an accurate result reflecting the desire of the entire community."

The sampling method recommended use of ten per cent of all households in the community. The Jaycees went through Polk's directory and numbered 2,081 households in the borough. Ten per cent of that was 208, but the number was increased to 240 to take care of the mathematical percentage that may not vote, or have moved, etc. Then a listing of random numbers designed to make an accurate cross section was secured from the census bureau.

REPORT IN DECEMBER

The names were then selected in accordance with the numbers given by the census bureau.

With their ballots, the 240 chosen will receive a covering letter explaining the nature of the balloting, plus a fact sheet listing the choices available.

previous Presidential election." The "Adams Sentinel," the Republican organ, said, "As we go to press, the town is alive with excitement."

The Compiler explained that the Democratic vote in the county fell off "about 200. This was caused by the depression existing among Democrats on account of having two candidates in the field and the heavy opposition majority at the governor's election. Many justified themselves in staying away from the polls upon the plea that there was no use in going—the election was lost anyhow."

On the other hand the Sentinel said, "Every man is congratulating his neighbor on the triumph of correct and honest principles. The stirring music which passes through the streets enlivens everyone. It is indeed a glorious victory, one worthy of a jubilee."

TOTALS DIFFERED

Gettysburg's two newspapers also seemed to have gotten different totals when they added up the votes in the 1860 Presidential election.

Both gave Lincoln 2,724 votes in Adams County. After that there was a difference. The Compiler reported the "Reading ticket"—the Democratic electors chosen (Continued On Page 3)

CAR MEMBERS GIVE SKIT ON NATION'S FLAG

A skit on the history of the American flag entitled "Our Flag" was presented by members of the Children of the American Revolution at a meeting of the DAR Friday evening at the YWCA.

Patricia Oyler, master of ceremonies, dressed in colonial costume, read "What the Flag Means" and the "History of the Flag." Virginia Lee Deardorff, also in colonial costume, read "Who Made the First American Flag?" Miss Oyler gave an account of the flags of Great Britain. Some of the flags were displayed. John Oyler read about the pine tree flag, a popular flag in New England which signified the hardiness of the New Englanders. The rattlesnake flag was shown and Susan Weischoff told of its representation of the southern states. Judy Tate gave an account of the first flag of the Colonies which was hung at George Washington's headquarters, Cambridge, Mass. Robert Tate read about the adoption of the flag of the United States, which consisted of 13 stripes, alternating, red and white and 13 white stars in a field of blue. Some said in Colonial times that the circle of stars meant "equality of the states" but others said it meant the "Union without end."

Demaree Deardorff read that the flag with five rows staggered and three stars in each row was the flag that inspired Francis Scott Key at Fort Mchenry to write the "Star Spangled Banner."

She told about the decision to keep 13 stripes, and a star for each new state, and on each Fourth (Continued On Page 3)

LIBRARY MAY CHANGE NAME AFTER 16 YEARS

The 16-year-old Adams County Free Library may change its name in January at its annual meeting to the Adams County Public Library, following action taken Friday evening at the November meeting of the library's board of directors.

The directors voted to have a resolution prepared for submission at the annual meeting to make that name change. The question of the name came up when directors were discussing the lettering for a new library sign to be placed soon at the front of the main building on E. High St.

President C. P. Keefer presided at the meeting and named Allen S. Stauffer, Biglerville, who is chairman of the finance committee, as the chairman of the 1961 budget committee. Members of his committee are Don Becker, Attorney Donald Oyler, Dr. Frank Hewetson and Attorney H. Thomas Pyle.

SQUEEZE FOR FUNDS

Financial problems occupied the board for a considerable part of Friday's meeting. The board soon will receive a bill for a little more than $1,000 for new pavement, curbs and steps in front of the library building. The expenditure was not provided for in the budget and the need for extra gifts before the end of the year was pointed up.

The $5,000 book budget has been spent in addition to using about $1,000 in donations earmarked for new books this year. Mrs. Mary S. Wilson, librarian, told the board. The monthly financial statement showed the library had a balance Friday of $3,834 and with most of its regular annual income already received.

A payment remains to be made from Gettysburg Borough and some school districts have not yet contributed for 1961, reports showed. Bills approved for payment Friday night totaled $3,221. The library received a final payment of $3,750 from the county and $1,000 from the Community Chest last month. Other recent gifts include $50 from the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank of New Oxford and equal sums from the Inland Container Corp. and the Aero Oil Company.

"CIRCUS" AIDS LIBRARY

Mrs. Wilson reported Lynn Trainer, Gettysburg, donated $4 to the library that she and her friends had raised through a "neighborhood circus."

Mrs. Wilson submitted library circulation reports for September and October showing of 5,495 loans in September, an increase over the same month last year, and 7,613 loans in October, about 1,500 less than the same month last year.

Her report showed a net decrease in the library's book stock for the two months. In September 175 books were bought or donated while 231 were taken out of circulation. In October, 175 books were added and 165 withdrawn.

MORE BOOK SHELVES

The board accepted the offer of the Friends of the Library to install additional bookshelves in the library with the removal of several artificial fireplaces. The board also heard that the Friends of the Library will consider next week a proposal to finance sandblasting and pointing of the library exterior.

The Friends of the Library are being "asked and urged" to send a representative to the board meetings.

The board approved installation of timing devices for exterior lights at the library building.

Mrs. Wilson reported the need for a new typewriter, a new book truck, a new office chair and a new mimeograph machine.

The board will meet next on December 2.

NIXON-LODGE ARE LAUDED AT G. O. P. DINNER

"This campaign must bring a rebirth of the spirit that built America; the spirit of Lincoln. This is the big issue of the campaign for the change that comes in this election will be a vital factor in determining the course of the world in the years ahead."

Thus did State Senator George N. Wade, of Cumberland County, throw down the challenge to the Republican party and the voters of the nation at the dinner sponsored by the Adams County Republican committee at the Hotel Gettysburg Friday night.

Senator Wade hailed the Nixon-Lodge ticket as representing "the combination of experience, integrity and courageous leadership, to set their party on the path that will carry on the work of President Eisenhower," whom he referred to as "perhaps the greatest president the nation has had."

DRAW A PARALLEL

The speaker drew a parallel between "a great decision that was made in 1863 at the edge of this historic town" and the decision "that must be made by the nation as it faces the crossroads of world leadership today."

Senator Wade scored the regime of Gov. David Lawrence, at Harrisburg, for "its effort to arrogate to itself decisions and duties that belong to the people." He warned that if the Democratic regime wins control of both houses of legislature, "vital controls will be taken out of the hands of the legislature and placed in the hands of the executive branch of the government, particularly in highway affairs."

CITE PAST BUDGETS

He cited the "increasing budgets" of the Democratic administrations of Govs. Leader and Lawrence. In the first year of the Leader administration, he recalled, the budget was $1,264,000, the second year $1,636,000, "and when Leader left office there was a deficit of $142,000. The effort to apply an income tax to yield $610,000 followed," the Senator reminded, and a sales tax was enacted instead.

ARREST TRIO AFTER CHASE; HAD ROBBED STATION HERE

Three Baltimore Negroes, William Simmons, 30; Mills Wiggins, 30, and Charles Oliver Clifford, 38, are in the Adams County jail today charged with motor code violations and with burglary and larceny of Jay's Sunoco Station, Buford Ave.

The three were arrested Friday Wiggins and Clifford when their car was stopped on W. Middle St. about 4:45 o'clock in the afternoon. Simmons, who took to his heels when the car was halted by State Police Cpl. David K. James, was arrested by state police about 7 o'clock Friday night, walking along the Emmitsburg Rd. two miles south of here.

The series of events that led to the arrest of the three men began about 4:40 o'clock at Jay's Service Station.

MISSIES SPARK PLUGS

Jay Sheffield, proprietor of the station, and his employee, William Morehead, were engaged with customers at the front of the station when a car with the three Baltimore men in it stopped. One asked Sheffield where he could get a drink of water and Sheffield directed him into the station. The three men went into the station.

A little later two came out and Sheffield, finishing his work outside, went in and the Baltimore man still in the station inquired about used tires. He and Sheffield conversed and then the Baltimorean left the station.

As he did, another customer came in and told Sheffield he had observed one of the Negroes reaching to a shelf. Sheffield discovered about a dozen boxes of spark plugs, valued at about $110, had disappeared.

Sheffield ran out of the station, shouting to Morehead: "They robbed the station."

OFFICER JOINS CHASE

Morehead jumped into his auto and gave chase to the Baltimore car which had started east on Chambersburg St. The Baltimoreans apparently noticed Morehead and a chase began on Chambersburg, S. Franklin and W. Middle Sts.

Mealtine Cpl. James was on his way home from the state police barracks for supper. He was halted facing east on W. Middle St. at its intersection with S. Washington St., waiting for the light to change. Behind him was a long line of cars.

Suddenly, in his rear view mirror, he saw a car coming east on the wrong side of Middle St. at about 40 miles a hour. Traffic was crossing the intersection on Washington St. and James sounded his horn in an effort to stop the cars on that street. "Fortunately," he said later, "the two cars about to cross halted and the Baltimore auto sped through, narrowly missing one of the autos that had stopped on Washington St."

Cpl. James gave chase and forced the Baltimore car to the curb near the office of Dr. David Ston

CANCEL VISIT OF RED EXPERTS

OIL CITY, Pa. (AP)—Nine oil experts from the Soviet Union will not visit Bradford next Tuesday.

Frank Dennis, an American Petroleum Institute representative traveling with the Russians in the Southwest, notified the Pennsylvania Crude Oil Association here Friday of the cancellation.

Bradford Mayor John A. Still had protested the visit to the State Department, saying the American oil industry "ought to have its head examined" for permitting the visit.

Informed of the cancellation, Still, a Republican, said:

"I am very happy they are not coming to Bradford. They have saved us what probably would have been a considerable police problem. I feel sure there would have been a large demonstration at the airport and I doubt that the Russians even would have been able to land."

The state oil association quoted Dennis as saying "the Russian and American oil men found so much of mutual technical interest in Oklahoma and Texas that it was decided to prolong their stay in the Southwest today."

"This makes it impossible to go to Pennsylvania because of their full schedule in the New York area until their departure for Moscow Nov. 13."

CONGO LEADER MAY FLY TO U.N.

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Diplomatic sources said today that President Joseph Kasavubu plans to fly to New York early next week to lead the Congolese delegation at the United Nations General Assembly.

The informants said Kasavubu was encouraged by his pro-Western advisers to try to put an end to the controversy over the on-going representation by his personal appearance in New York.

Kasavubu fired Patrice Lumumba as premier on Sept. 5 and has since given his blessing to the government commissioners named by pro-Western army leader Col. Joseph Mobutu.

Lumumba, supported by the Soviet bloc and many of the African-Asian nationalists, refused to accept his dismissal and still claims to be the only lawful premier although Mobutu's army is keeping him virtually imprisoned in his U.N.-protected official residence.

TO ASK 240

will visit the homes of those to whom the ballots will be sent and then will compile the results, for presentation to borough council at its December meeting.

The Jaycee committee in charge, Wendell, John Basehore and Donald Becker expressed their appreciation to William Lentz, Metropolitan Edison manager; Philip M. Jones, borough councilman; and Paul L. Roy, editor of The Gettysburg Times, for suggestions and ideas used in completing plans for the voting.

HAVE 6 CHOICES

Those who receive the ballots may check any one of six positions: "1. install early traditional lighting; 2. install modern ornamental lighting; 3. keep the present lighting with no change; 4. keep the present lighting system but install stronger bulbs; 5. install a combination of systems; 6. have no opinion. If the voter checks No. 5, urging a combination, he is asked to explain the combination he favors. The sex of the person balloting is asked and the voter is asked to write in the total number of persons 18 or over in his or her household. A space is provided for comments.

The fact sheet accompanying the ballot contains the following information:

"1. The early traditional lights contain 250 watt, mercury vapor, phosphor color improved lamps and provide 11,000 lumens of illumination. They may be installed on the present poles painted black, or they may be installed on new standards 16 to 20 feet in height. Forty-eight will be required.

"2. The modern ornamental lights contain 400 watt, mercury vapor, phosphor color improved lamps providing 20,000 lumens of illumination. They must be installed on modern aluminum poles 30 feet in height. Forty-two will be required.

"3. The present ornamental system contains incandescent lamps providing 4,000 lumen of illumination. The illumination can be increased to 6,000 lumen by installing larger bulbs. Forty-eight are presently installed.

"4. It may be possible to install a combination of the above systems.

"5. Only the lighting in the square and the first blocks of Baltimore, York, Chambersburg and Carlisle Sts. is being considered in this survey.

"6. The cost of the modern ornamental system and the early traditional system over a 20 year period would be approximately the same and would amount to an increase of two or three per cent in the total borough budget. The present budget is $169,000.

"7. Sample lights have been erected in the square to demonstrate each type of light."

BOWL PICTURE TO BE CLEARER AFTER TODAY

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Some of college football's elite went a-bowling today.

Iowa, Minnesota, Navy, Missouri, Washington and Tennessee, all members of the latest Associated Press top ten, were prime bait for the various postseason bowl committees.

The weekend got off to its usual hectic start with Miami's Hurricanes, right in the middle. The Hurricanes, for the second consecutive week, had to put on a tremendous last period rush to win, this time beating intrastate rival Florida State, 25-7. Last week it was Boston College, 10-7.

GW WINS
Detroit surprised Marquette, 32-12, and George Washington shut out Richmond, 16-0, as Bill Hardy tossed a pair of touchdown passes.

The Rose Bowl could get its lineup from three different sites. Iowa, leading the nation in the latest Associated Press poll, meets third-ranked Minnesota in what looks like the closest thing to deciding the Big Ten title. Both have 6-0 records, with Iowa's Big Ten mark at 4-0, Minnesota's 3-0.

On the West Coast, Washington's Huskies, defending Big Five and Rose Bowl titlist, plays Southern California, its biggest contender for the title. The Huskies have a 6-1 overall record and are 2-0 in the Big Five, as is Southern Cal (3-3). The Trojans will be minus their rugged guard, Mike McKeever, out for the season after a brain operation.

10 STRAIGHT

Navy, fourth-ranked and mentioned as the most sought after for the Rose Bowl visiting team, puts its 7-0 mark on the line against Duke. The Midshipmen have won their last 10 games while Duke has surprised everyone with a 5-1 mark.

Missouri, ranked second with a 7-0 mark, can just about lock up the Big Eight title when it plays Colorado (5-1). The Tigers are a two-touchdown favorite as they angle toward another trip to the Orange Bowl.

Mississippi (No. 6) plays Chattanooga in a non-Southeastern Conference game while Ohio State, ranked fifth, goes against Indiana, in a game that won't count in Big Ten rankings.

PENN VS. YALE

Tennessee (No. 8), with only a scoreless tie tarnishing its record, plays Georgia Tech in a SEC game while unfrocked Syracuse, its 16-game victory streak gone, invades New York's Yankee Stadium for its much ballyhooed game against Army. Pitt, Syracuse's unfrocked, is at Notre Dame.

Two of the three other unbeaten teams are in action. Yale (6-0) plays tough Penn in the Ivy League; Utah State (7-0) goes against Wyoming (6-1) for the lead in the Skyline Conference. New Mexico State (7-0) is idle.

NIXON-LODGE

years," Wade said, "and if the spending increases at the same rate in the next three years we will have a budget in the state that would equal the budget of the nation in the Roosevelt administration 28 years ago." And he added that "the state employee rolls have increased from 51,000 to 76,000 through the Leader and Lawrence administrations."

CALLED 'WEAK' REGIME

Senator Wade called the present administration "the worst under which I have served in the seven terms of my incumbency in Harrisburg." He called the present Democratic regime "weak and the least efficient of any in recent years and one from which it is extremely hard to get a decision." He attributed the loss of industries in Pennsylvania as largely due to the policies of the Lawrence government and declared that it is often "most difficult to get money to match federal grants in current projects."

"It may be we will miss some of these grants because of the lack of matching funds," he asserted. Wade contrasted the national growth goals as expressed by Senator Kennedy in his Democratic campaigning through further government direction and controls, with the spirit of free enterprise that has marked the progress of America.

"EXAMPLE TO WORLD"

"Lincoln said that the government should do only the things that the people could not do," the senator declared. "Our nation must be the shining example to the world of what the people can do in lifting their goals higher, maintaining their integrity and at the same time preserve freedom of enterprise, sound government and individual freedom."

"This election must decide which way the people will go. And I say they must go with Nixon and Lodge to achieve the growth we need, maintain the dignity of the individual and show to the world that a man may start at the bottom and, with a chance to progress, can still achieve the highest of goals."

Fred G. Pfeffer, state committeeman, acted as toastmaster and introduced a number of Republican party leaders present. H. Earl Pitzer, Republican county chairman, county chairman, welcomed the dinner guests and introduced Senator Wade.

GOODLING'S SON SPEAKS

D. Elmer Hawbaker, of Mercersburg, candidate for state senator, spoke briefly, setting as the "big issue" in the campaign "whether we can keep this the land of the free, where man can be captain of his fate and master of his soul, or whether we must be captives of the state that owns our souls."

William Goodling, of York, son of George Goodling, candidate for Congress, made a brief appeal in behalf of his father, who was unable to be present because of another speaking engagement.

Rev. Robert A. MacAskill, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, delivered the invocation, and Mrs. Lena M. Parr, pastor of the AME from the National DAR and Genealogical Library.

Mrs. Scharf showed a box which was found among Miss McMillan's possessions containing nine Indian head nickels and a note stating that they were for the DAR collection.

The next meeting will be January 6, at the YWCA instead of Mrs. Lefever's home at 2 p.m.

Gettysburg Schools Report

For almost 50 years the laws of Pennsylvania have made it possible for school districts to combine into what is known as a joint school system to operate schools together. A joint school system is a federation of school districts operated by the joint school board which is made up of all the school boards of the districts becoming a part of the joint school system. This kind of a system is formed upon the favorable vote of the school directors in the school districts becoming part of the joint school system.

Not much progress was made in the formation of joint school systems until 1947 when the General Assembly of Pennsylvania provided for a financial incentive to school districts that became part of a joint school system. This proved to be the key that unlocked the door to the organization of joint school systems which were formed wholesale all over the state from 1947 from 1950. It was intended that these joint school systems would become the stepping stone to the formation of merged school districts after the individual school districts in the joint school system had operated together for several years and had learned that they could get along together in the operation of schools.

It was discovered that there was no much movement from the joint school organization to a merged school district. Consequently, at the 1951 session of the General Assembly a bill was introduced, and passed, which gave additional financial incentive to districts forming a merged school district over those financial advantages given to joint school systems. This additional state appropriation to districts forming merged school districts provided some impetus for the formation of a greater number of this type of district. There have been four meetings of the General Assembly since 1951 and at none of these sessions was any attempt made to repeal the action of the 1951 session of the General Assembly. In fact, there was some movement in the 1959 session of the General Assembly to increase further the state appropriation payable to merged school districts over that payable to joint school systems.

CITE FOUR REASONS

The question has been asked, "Why does the state legislature continue to provide additional funds to merged school districts, over those paid to joint school systems?" No one can speak for individual members of the General Assembly but it would seem apparent that the action of the General Assembly as a group was taken because it felt that A. The number of school districts in Pennsylvania should be reduced.

B. Larger school districts should be formed.

C. Larger school districts could operate more efficiently than smaller school districts.

D. Economies in state operation could be effected by a reorganization of the school districts in Pennsylvania into larger single districts which would result from the formation of merged school districts.

During the past six weeks information has been available in Zion Church, gave the benediction.

Orville B. Orner, chairman of the Republican finance committee, and S. Blaine Miller were in charge of dinner arrangements. More than 130 attended.

During the evening two checks were presented to the county committee by Mrs. Ruth Fry, of East Berlin, treasurer of the Adams County Council of Republican Women, of which Mrs. Alfred Fidler is president. One of the checks for $200 came as a gift from the women's council treasury and the other for $150 was proceeds from the cake sale conducted at the rally at South Mountain Fairgrounds last Saturday by the council.

Chairman Pitzer introduced J. B. Wineman, for many years a merchant here, as "the oldest Republican diner present." Mr. Wineman is 86.

Miss Joyce Lehman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lehman, York Springs, was initiated into Kappa Mu chapter of Alpha Iota sorority at Hagerstown recently.

Miss Lehman was one of 13 elected to Alpha Iota, international honorary business sorority, and was a guest at a reception held at the Washington County Museum of Fine Arts in Hagerstown. Requirements for election to this honorary organization are superior scholarship, leadership, personality and character.

Miss Lehman is a graduate of Bermudian Springs High School and is now a student at Hagerstown Business College. Miss Lehman's sister, Mrs. Arla Lehman Cook, is a charter member of Kappa Mu chapter.

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP)—Two youths on a farm tractor evaded police patrol cars in a two-day cross country race across the island of Zealand.

The boys, ages 16 and 17, got away from a reformatory near Slagelse Wednesday night.

They were seen riding a stolen tractor the next morning by police who promptly gave chase. The boys turned down a winding road and, when nearly overtaken, steered the tractor across a ditch and into a ploughed field.

this newspaper which would answer questions concerning a merged school district. Public meetings were held in various parts of our school attendance area, printed information was distributed throughout the area served by our schools, and organizations of all kinds were offered the services of speakers to explain the merged district to their memberships. It would seem that anyone who was interested in this matter had plenty of opportunities to acquaint themselves with the facts in the case. This newspaper has been most cooperative in helping to disseminate information and this cooperation is appreciated very much.

Voters in Cumberland Township, Franklin Township, Freedom Township, Gettysburg Borough, Highland Township, Mt. Joy Township, and Straban Township school districts will receive on November 8 at the General Election a special ballot on which they may designate their conviction as to whether or not a merged school district should be formed. The ballot is long because there are two districts in our joint school system that are divided between our joint school system and another joint school system. The dividing line had to be described as completely as a description appearing on a deed. Hence, the length of the ballot. These dividing lines as described on the ballot are the same as those that are presently used for joint school operation. No land area will be added to our school area by the formation of a merger nor will the number of pupils be changed because of the formation of a merger.

It was expected that there would be many and various reactions to the proposal to form a merged school district. These reactions developed and this is good because in the formation of a merged school district the people of the districts involved are thereby given a chance to vote on the merger. It should be remembered that the people did not have a chance to vote on the formation of a joint school system. Our joint school system seems to have been accepted favorably by the people in the districts involved in the joint school operation. It would seem reasonable to assume that the operation of a merged school district eventually would be accepted just as the joint school system has been accepted.

at a fusion meeting in Reading—received 2,676 votes; Douglas received 13 and Bell and Everett 38." According to the Compiler: "Lincoln's majority over the Reading ticket, 48. The majority for Democratic and Bell tickets over Lincoln, 3."

"COUNTY REDEEMED"

The Sentinel interpreted the figures thusly: "2,724 to Lincoln, 2,644 to Fusion, 28 to Bell and 36 to Douglas, or Lincoln an 80-vote lead over Reading, 2,686 lead over Bell, 2,688 over Douglas and over all, six, a clear majority over the Fusionists, since the Bell and Everett vote was taken our side of the house, of 44."

The Sentinel headlined its election story: "Adams County Is Redeemed. All Safe! Honest Old Abe goes to the White House and Ousts the Plunderers."

Both parties held numerous meetings prior to the election. Both papers reported "glorious rallies with tremendous attendance" for the sessions of their own party and termed meetings of the other party a "frizzle." The Compiler said of one mass meeting at New Oxford: "It was truly a glorious rally of the friends of the Union in the low-enthusiastic came in from all quarters—Irishtown, Mount Rock, Abbottstown, East Berlin, Hampton, Gettysburg—the latter having been conveyed there in a special train of cars. The deliberations bore flags, wreaths and other hand-some decorations, the handiwork of the Democratic daughters of that region." The article noted that one of the speakers gave his address in German.

"RIGHT TO CROW"

Freedom for the slaves did not seem a popular subject in Adams County at least 100 years ago. The Compiler printed in large black type that "Lincoln is for Abolition—the old Rank Abolitionists are for Lincoln." The Sentinel devoted many stories to prove that Lincoln had nothing to do with abolition.

Adams County at that time apparently had 19 districts of which eight gave Lincoln a majority. Gettysburg gave 315 votes for the Fusion ticket, 393 for Lincoln, four to Douglas and 10 for Bell. Other districts giving Lincoln a majority included York Springs, Millerstown (Fairfield), Menallen, Heidlersburg, Mount Joy, Reading and Freedom.

After the election the Compiler reported thus of their political opponents: "The triumph of Abolitionism in the election of Lincoln has probably been nowhere hailed with more delight by that party than here. They were on Wednesday really frantic with joy, especially several of the post office expectants. It was their time to crow — and they did — as of course they had a right to do."

Today's Talk

KEEP EXPECTING THE
THINGS MOST DESIRED

Anticipation is what fires the imagination, picturing events as they occur. It also keeps us alive to ourselves. Throughout life interests must keep our mind fed and awaiting all opportunities that come our way. Many of these opportunities, however, must be created, and many a one has to be surprised.

There must be a consciousness of good things awaiting discovery! It is this constant hope and desire that keeps our mind active and alert.

If we bear in mind to keep expecting the things most desired, we can be sure of attention and the promise of rich rewards. But we must not be afraid to keep searching for "openings" to prove our sincerity and readiness to keep giving ourselves away.

John Mason Brown once stated that "The only happiness comes from squandering ourselves for a purpose."

Michael Fairless in her inspired little book, "The Road-mender," wrote this: "After all, what do we ask of life, here, or indeed hereafter, but to leave to serve, to commune with our fellow men and with ourselves, and from the lap of earth to look up into the face of God."

Just Folks

LOVE ENOUGH FOR ALL

What if you miss your share of wealth,

Or fail to harvest fame?

Be satisfied, my friend, that you have not encountered shame.

And though perhaps of fame and wealth

But little you have found,

Of love, for all on earth there is enough to go around.

'Tis not God's way that all should be Allowed to take their ease;

For some must toil in boiling heat

And sigh for cooling breeze.

And though perhaps 'tis not your fate

To own a plot of ground,

Of love, for you and me there is enough to go around.

Though men may win from you your gold

And fame may quickly fade,

Love is the treasure God has sent

To every man and maid.

And all the other precious gifts

Are but a hollow sound;

So fill your heart with love—

There is Enough to go around.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Samuel Damiano has been sent to jail for five years for passing six counterfeit $100 bills during a poker game.

But Judge Francis L. Van Dusen of U. S. District Court told the 26-year-old defendant:

"You have 60 days in which to change your mind and tell agents where you got the money or convince them that you don't know where the money came from, in which case I might change the sentence."

Damiano, who also was fined $2,000 Friday said that he might have received the money when he was making change at his store. He was convicted by a jury on Sept. 20.

2 CARDINALS
DENY REPORTS OF VOTE CLASH

NEW YORK (AP) — Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York and Cardinal Cushing of Boston deny published reports that rivalry exists between the two Roman Catholic archbishops over a choice for president.

The two cardinals issued a joint statement Friday denying "any such rivalry on any level."

Since 1925, when Cardinals Spellman and Cushing served together as curates, they have been close friends. Cardinal Cushing succeeded Cardinal Spellman as auxiliary bishop of Boston when the latter moved to New York.

The cardinals' statement was prompted by a column by John Crosby in Friday's New York Herald Tribune and a story by Wayne Phillips in Wednesday's New York Times.

Crosby wrote that Cardinal Spellman is for Vice President Richard M. Nixon while Cardinal Cushing is for Sen. John F. Kennedy.

Kennedy is a Catholic and Nixon a Quaker.

The Times story quoted a "Catholic source" as saying there was coolness toward Kennedy among some Catholic in New York.

The two cardinals issued a statement which said in part:

"We deny absolutely any such rivalry on any level whatsoever and we protest with all our power against such statements and all that they insinuate."

100 Will Live In Fallout Shelter

PLEASANTON, Calif. (AP) — One hundred members of Bay Area families ranging in age from 2 months to 68 years went underground Friday night to live the weekend in a fallout shelter no larger than a school room.

The shelter, at Camp Parks near here, measures 25 by 48 feet. It is a half-moon-shaped metal-roofed but buried three feet under ground.

The 53 adults and their 47 children went down an inclined tunnel into the shelter at 6:35 p. m. The shelter is brightly lit and well ventilated.

The test is part of a continuing program by government agencies to determine how best to protect the civilian population from the hazards of nuclear attack.

The accident occurred at the home of Phyllis Coolidge, also 20. Police said Carson had been deer hunting in the morning, came back for lunch and was preparing to go out again when the accident happened.

TERRORIZING MEMPHIS
MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A gang of screaming, cursing young Negroes, many of them teenagers, terrorized a North Memphis area late Friday night with shotguns, clubs and bricks.

Frantic calls from white residents of the mixed neighborhood brought two riot squads and at least 10 patrol cars. Five young Negroes were taken to Juvenile Court for questioning.

POLITICS
REPUBLICAN~DEMOCRATBy MARVIN ARROWSMITH
EN ROUTE WITH NIXON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon, battling for the 32 electoral votes of his home state of California, today accused Sen. John F. Kennedy of talking "synthetic bunk" on financing of the Democratic program.

Nixon, Republican candidate for the presidency, arrived in the central California community of Fresno Friday night, got a tumultuous welcome from a police-estimated crowd of 15,000 which surged out of control at times, and arranged a busy day in the state.

Traveling by plane and automobile, the vice president booked campaign speeches in San Jose, Hayward, Oakland and Van Nuys today, and was to move on to Los Angeles for a coast-to-coast television address tonight.

Nixon put out a statement contending once again that programs advocated by Kennedy, Democratic nominee for the White House, would add $15 billion a year to federal spending.

Nixon said Kennedy, in Norfolk, Va., Friday pledged that he would adhere to sound fiscal policy if elected.

"CAN'T GO BOTH WAYS"

"He can't have it both ways," the vice president declared. "He can't go to Virginia and be sensible for one hour of one day of one week, and then during the rest of the time espouse his platform's free spending, cheap money doctrines."

"America is a big place but not so big that such tactics go undiscovered."

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Three men forced a Hollywood clubwoman's car to the curb, kidnapped, beat and robbed her, authorities report.

One of the men also raped her, Margaret Clinch McGann, 45, told sheriff's officers. She was hospitalized in Los Angeles with a possible skull fracture.

Investigators said Mrs. McGann was bound, gagged and thrown from her car early Friday at Agoura, a Los Angeles suburb, after the men kidnapped her at Santa Barbara, 80 miles north.

An all points bulletin was issued for three young Negroes. Also sought was the victim's car, a 1960 Cadillac.

Mrs. McGann is estranged from director William McGann, 62. She is a member of several Los Angeles area socialite groups.

REPUBLICAN~DEMOCRAT

By MARVIN ARROWSMITH
EN ROUTE WITH NIXON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon, battling for the 32 electoral votes of his home state of California, today accused Sen. John F. Kennedy of talking "synthetic bunk" on financing of the Democratic program.

Nixon, Republican candidate for the presidency, arrived in the central California community of Fresno Friday night, got a tumultuous welcome from a police-estimated crowd of 15,000 which surged out of control at times, and arranged a busy day in the state.

Traveling by plane and automobile, the vice president booked campaign speeches in San Jose, Hayward, Oakland and Van Nuys today, and was to move on to Los Angeles for a coast-to-coast television address tonight.

Nixon put out a statement contending once again that programs advocated by Kennedy, Democratic nominee for the White House, would add $15 billion a year to federal spending.

Nixon said Kennedy, in Norfolk, Va., Friday pledged that he would adhere to sound fiscal policy if elected.

"CAN'T GO BOTH WAYS"

PREDICT MANY BALLOTS BY ABSENTEES

HARRISBURG (AP) — Many thousands of Pennsylvanians will have the opportunity to cast absentee ballots in the election next Tuesday.

The 1959 amendment to the state Constitution extends to civilians for the first time absentee voting privileges previously enjoyed only by those in military service and by bedridden veterans.

To qualify for an absentee ballot, civilians must be unavoidably absent from home on election day and legally registered in their home district. There is no registration requirement on military ballots.

NEARLY 70,000

A total of 62,082 absentee ballots, military and civilian, were sent out by 34 counties responding in an Associated Press survey.

Reporting counties included the most populous, but a projection shows that upward of 70,000 ballots may have been mailed to absentees.

Of course, all those receiving absentee ballots won't return them. But in a close election the absentee ballots could weigh heavily.

COUNTED IN 10 DAYS

The absentee ballots must be postmarked prior to the Nov. 8 election day. They must be counted within 10 days after the election, then certified to the State Elections Bureau.

In the 1956 presidential race 33,138 ballots were sent out by the counties and 16,000 returned.

Moretti said Kennedy apparently was unaware of the tussle.

Littlestown's unbeaten Thunderbolts again proved the might that has brought them through a tough season as they dumped the Cannons of Biglerville 20-7 Friday night on the Biglerville field before an overflow crowd.

There were several big "ifs" involved during the course of the evening, but Littlestown certainly left little doubt. The Cannons were forced to play without the services of their ace back, Ron Wagner, and their number one tackle, Dennis Little. Ken Fetters, end, received a slight injury early in the game and saw limited action.

Littlestown's story can be told in two words, Bowers and Bortner. Bill Bowers, 5'9", 159-pound package of dynamite and Ted Bortner, only a 150-pound Sophomore, tallied the Bolts' trio of TD's and between them picked up a total of 302 yards on the ground.

Littlestown threatened in the early seconds of the ball game when Bortner took off down the sidelines for 48 yards to place the ball on the Cannons' 13. After the Bolts advanced to the five, Ray Kuhn recovered a Dick Motter fumble. The remainder of the first stanza was played in Biglerville territory.

BOWERS TALLIES

The Bolts' first TD came one minute after the start of the second quarter. Bortner recovered a Gary Slaybaugh fumble on the Cannon 26. On two plays Bortner carried the ball to the 24. Bowers then went off the right side of the line for seven yards. Reversing his field Bowers carried the ball 17 yards around left end and went into the end zone standing up. It was his 21st touchdown of the season. Larry Snyder sent a perfect placement through the uprights and the Bolts led 7-0 at intermission. Before the half came to a close Biglerville carried the ball 48 yards to the Littlestown eight yard line before a determined line, led by Gene Applier and Jim Rineaman, stopped the threat.

Littlestown struck again with a thunderous blow at the 8:20 mark of the third frame. Ted Bortner took the kickoff and dashed 13 yards to his own 38. Littlestown covered the touchdown drive of 62 yards on seven plays. Bortner and Bowers carried to the 48. Bortner picked up nine and Bowers added seven to place the ball on the Cannon 36. Bortner then hit the line for one yard, Bowers scampered around right end for 18 more yards to the 17. Bortner, behind excellent blocking, sliced off tackle and cut back to the center of the field to race the remaining 17 yards for the score. Snyder booted the conversion and the Bolts led 14-0.

Biglerville came back and drove to the Littlestown 30, but Gene Applier intercepted a Slaybaugh pass. The Bolts were unable to move the ball on three downs and Biglerville took over on its 41. After a six-yard gain, Wright passed to Slaybaugh for 21 yards to the Bolts' 32. Again the Cannons were unable to move the ball and at the same time were thrown for a 10-yard loss and Littlestown took over on its 42. Bortner and Bowers carried for nine yards following a five-yard penalty. Bowers then faded back and fired a 44-yard aerial to Strevig to put the ball on the Cannon 10. At this point Bortner rounded left end and darted in for the score with 8:55 left in the game. This time big Perry Mickey came charging in and blocked Snyder's placement.

FAIR GOES OVER

Biglerville finally hit the scoring column with 1:30 remaining in the game. The Cannons' right tackle, Bob Barbour, recovered another Motter fumble to give the home team possession on the Littlestown 17. Bruce Parker, speedy Senior halfback, bolted through the line for 10 yards and a first down on the Bolts' seven. Gary Fair, team work horse, skirted wide around left end for the score. Mickey booted the extra point, but a five-yard penalty nullified the play. This time, kicking from the 15, the 240-pound tackle again split the uprights with a perfect kick.

The game marked the final grid contest of the season for the Cannons and Coach Jack Emmanuel and his squad turned in an excellent season. The Cannons

Bullet-Hofstra Game Tonight Starts At 9:05

A wide open and hard fought game is expected tonight when the Gettysburg College gridders tangle with Hofstra of Hempstead, Long Island, on Sheppard-Myers Field, Hanover, at 9:05 o'clock.

Both teams are expected to take to the air frequently as both have good passers, Earl Little and Jack Norwood for the Bullets, and Ron Zoia for Hofstra. Gettysburg carries a 2-4 record into the game while the Flying Dutchmen are 4-1-1.

Tonight's game is sponsored by the Hanover American Legion for the benefit of its athletic fund.

A full contingent of Bullet backers, including the college band, will travel to Hanover for the scrap.

posted seven wins and two setbacks and throughout the year proved they will be a tough team to contend with in the South Penn Conference.

Littlestown, now a perfect 8-0-1, will battle a once beaten South Western High next Friday night on the Littlestown field. The encounter will close out the 1960 campaign for the Bolts and will also decide the Laure Conference championship.

Rosseau, Creighton Lead Team To Win

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Little Guy Rosseau and veteran Dave Creighton combined their talents Friday night to life the Rochester Americans into the thick of the American Hockey League race for runnerup honors back of Springfield's pace-setting Indians.

With Rosseau scoring the tying goal late in the third period and then adding the winner at 8:47 of the sudden-death period, the Americans downed the cellar-dwelling Providence Reds 3-2.

Creighton's contribution to the victory was a goal at 13:06 of the final period after the Reds had taken a 2-0 lead on first period tallies by Bob Beckett and Bo Elik.

The victory lifted the Amerks into fourth place with 13 points, three back of second place Quebec. Springfield has 20.

BROWNS AND GIANTS CLASH IN BIG GAME

By JIM KENSIL

Associated Press Sports Writer

"We just didn't belong on the same field with the Giants" — Paul Brown, Cleveland coach, Dec. 6, 1959.

If the date doesn't register, it was the day the Giants beat Brown's injury-riddled Cleveland Browns 48-7 to wrap up New York's second straight Eastern Conference title in the National Football League.

The Browns (4-1) and Giants (3-1-1) are on the same field again Sunday and the question now is do the Giants belong there?

The Browns, who share the Eastern lead with the Philadelphia Eagles, are 7-point favorites to beat the Giants in Cleveland.

The Eagles (4-1) will be alone at the top if the Giants can pull an upset, and if the Eagles whip the visiting Pittsburgh Steelers (2-3-1). The Eagles are favored by a touchdown.

COILS VS. PACKERS

The big game in the Western Conference is the first-place meeting at Baltimore where the defending champion Colts (4-2) attempt to overtake the Green Bay Packers (4-1). The Colts are 8-point favorites to knock off the Packers who upset them 35-21 at Green Bay Oct. 9.

The Chicago Bears (3-2-1) are idle.

Elsewhere, in a full six-game card, the St. Louis Cardinals (3-3) are home favorites by a TD over the Washington Redskins (1-2-2), the Los Angeles Rams (1-4-1) get the nod by 11 over the Cowboys (0-6) at Dallas and the San Francisco 49ers (3-3) are rated 7 better than the visiting Detroit Lions (1-4).

WOMAN WANTS HER YOUNG SON TO OWN CLUB

CHICAGO (AP)—A decision is expected Monday on whether a Probate Court has jurisdiction to order the sale of the Kansas City Athletics baseball club.

The decision will be made by Judge Robert J. Dunne who Friday heard the remarried widow of the former owner of the A's contend she wants their son Jeffrey, 10, to be an owner of the club some day.

Mrs. Warren W. Humes of New York, whose late husband Arnold M. Johnson owned 52 per cent of the A's stock, continued to block proposed sale of controlling interest in the club.

ASKS COURT RULE

The court has been asked by the City National Bank of Chicago—co-executor of Johnson's estate with Mrs. Humes—to determine how Johnson's stock should be voted at a Nov. 9 meeting of club stockholders in Chicago.

The bank has received offers of approximately $3.5 million from interested groups in Kansas City and St. Louis.

Representing Mrs. Humes was attorney Harold L. Herzstein of New York. He questioned whether the court can rule on sale of stock when co-executors cannot agree.

Herzstein said the court must view the stock as Mrs. Humes' property and that Mrs. Humes believes the stock is a good investment and wants to keep it.

Johnson, who died last March 10, bought the A's in 1954.

COACH WANTS BETTER PLAY

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Warriors have a perfect record, but in the eyes of their coach they "still aren't playing the kind of basketball I want."

"We have a ragged defense, and too many defensive lapses," said Coach Neil Johnston after the Warriors lashed the Detroit Pistons 136-121 Friday night. Philadelphia has won five and has the only undefeated record in the National Basketball Association. Detroit's record is 2-3.

Wilt Chamberlain scored 44 points, his best performance of the season, in the only NBA game of the night. But he missed all 10 of his foul shots.

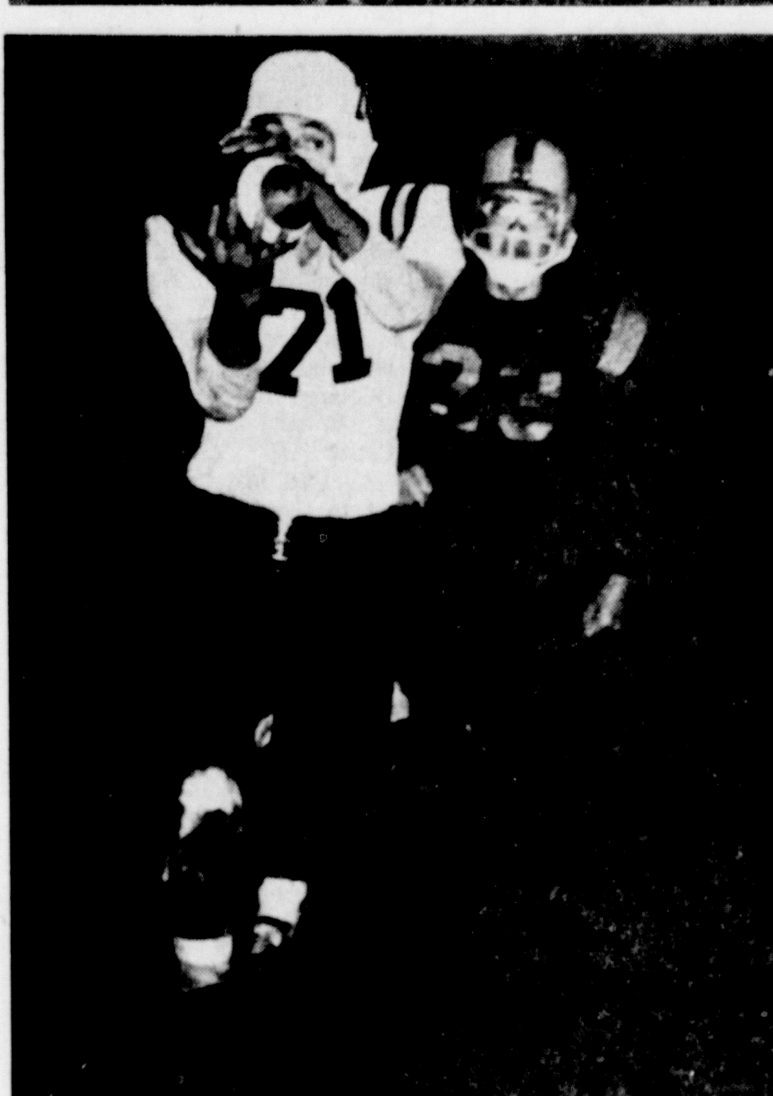

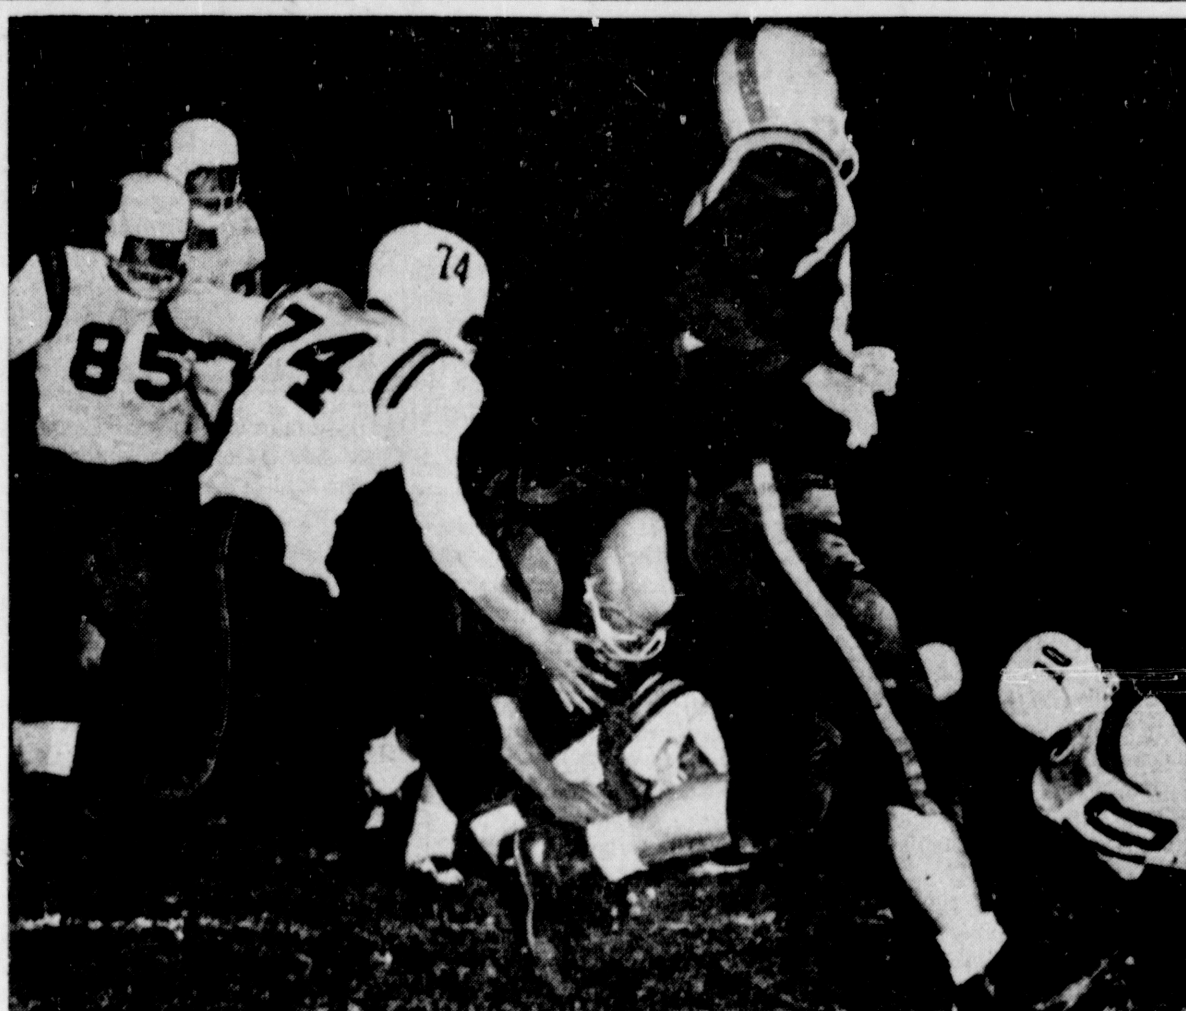

Foul shooting is a problem for the 7-foot-1 star, who is averaging somewhere around 34 points a game in his second NBA season.

The Pistons' Don Ohl was his team's high scorer with 24 points. The two teams meet again tonight in Boston, and Cincinnati plays Boston on the same card.

New York is at St. Louis and Syracuse goes to Los Angeles for a televised game.

Yankee Manager Ralph Houk had his most active season as a Yankee in 1947. He got in 41 games as a rookie, hit 272 and drove home 12 runs.

The local outfit is scheduled to participate in the Susquehanna Association tournament on Sunday.

TRAIL GUIDE BREAKS NECK IN HORSE SHOW

By ED CORRIGAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Trail Guide never made those green fields of retirement.

The courageous old warrior who devoted virtually his entire 21 years of equine life to jumping for U. S. international teams around the world, was killed Friday night just a few months before he was to be turned out.

It happened during a jumpoff for the Goodwill Challenge Trophy in the National Horse Show at Madison Square Garden.

Trail Guide, with Frank Chapot in the saddle, was trying to catch his teammate, High Noon, who had taken the lead on his turn.

Trail Guide and Chapot sailed over the first two of the 11 barriers. Approaching the third, a double over, Trail Guide's front legs appeared to lose their grip on the turf and he started to fall.

HAD BROKEN NECK

He slammed into the fence, but pawed desperately, trying to get over it. He fell to the ground on the other side.

Chapot, thrown clear, bounded up and raced to his stricken mount's side. Trail Guide didn't move.

Dr. Joseph O'Day found the veteran horse had a broken neck and destroyed him with an injection.

"There were no other course to take," said Dr. O'Day.

All the members of the U. S. team wept openly as they gathered around Trail Guide. The house lights were dimmed and the crowd of 10,000 sat silently.

Trail Guide was the No. 1 U. S. mount in the Rome Olympics, finishing sixth.

High Noon won the Good Will event.

Co-eds In 1-1 Tie At West Chester

The Gettysburg College girls' field hockey team played their third straight tie game when they deadlocked West Chester State College 1-1 Friday at West Chester.

Both scores were made in the first half, Carol Lunn tallying for the Bulletes and Diane Williams for West Chester.

The local outfit is scheduled to participate in the Susquehanna Association tournament on Sunday.

BEAVER FALLS SNARES WPIAL GRID TITLE

By FRED WALTERS

The Associated Press

Beaver Falls won its first WPIAL football championship in 32 years Friday night.

The glittering Class AA prize fell to the unbeaten Beaver County team as it defeated Ellwood City, 26-0, while Monessen, the only other contender, was being upset by McKeesport, 26-13.

Monessen was one of five previously unbeaten clubs to suffer the pangs of defeat as the 1960 season rang down for most of the western Pennsylvania high schools.

SOUTHWESTERN LOSERS

DuBois dropped a 30-13 decision at home to Hollidaysburg; Central Cambria was edged by Portage, 21-18; West Wyoming fell to Forty Fort, 39-14, and South Western lost to Laurel League rival York Suburban, 18-6.

Unbeaten teams coming through unscathed were Germantown Academy of Philadelphia, Norristown Bishop Kenrick, Old Forge, Wilkes-Barre G.A.R., Sayre, Coal Twp., Carlisle, Littlestown, Chestnut Ridge, Lock Haven, Pittsburgh North Catholic, Albert Gallatin, Beaver, Washington Twp., Conneaut Valley and Union Joint.

Beaver's 16-0 victory earned it a shot at the WPIAL-A title. It will meet Sewickley Twp., the only other unbeaten-untied team in the class.

In other games: Pottsville rebounded from last week's first defeat to down Hazleton, 19-6; Bald Eagle - Nittany thrashed Northumberland, 31-6; Milton walloped Jersey Shore, 31-0; Littlestown beat Biglerville, 20-7; Carlisle ran up a 68-0 victory over hapless Gettysburg; Pittsburgh Westinghouse defeated city rival Peabody, 25-7; Indiana and Derry played to a 12-12 tie.

Weirton of West Virginia rolled up a 48-13 victory over Johnstown; Meadville and Corry tied, 25-25; Mount Lebanon beat Munhall, 13-0; North Braddock Scott beat Braddock, 19-12; Greensburg downed Hempfield, 26-12; Brownsville took Uniontown, 21-12; Pottstown was upset by Spring-Ford, 20-13; Bethlehem held unbeaten-untied Phillipsburg, N. J., to a scoreless tie; South Scranton Catholic beat West Pittston, 13-0; Lock Haven squeaked through over Tyrone, 12-0.

CAL GRIFFITH WORRIED OVER PASCUAL ARM

—GRIFFITH SPORTS—

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—The ex-Washington Senators are brimful with optimism over their new home but worried about Camillo Pascual.

Owner Calvin Griffith, transplanting his American League club to Minneapolis-St. Paul, wants to send his ace pitcher to the Mayo Clinic for an examination.

Pascual injured his arm the latter part of the season and apparently has not recovered fully.

ANCHOR MAN

Pascual is the anchor man of a staff Griffith admitted "needs a four or five new w faces." The owner told newsmen Friday he looks to Pascual, Pete Ramos, Don Lee, Chuck Stobbs and Jack Kralick to serve as the core of his staff.

He expects a couple rookies to help, among them hard-throwing Ralph Lumenti, "who has to convince himself he's a major league pitcher."

NO INTEREST

But nobody, so far, has shown much willingness to talk trade with Griffith except the fellows who want to grab his stars like catcher Earl Battey and Pascual.

"We are powerful in the outfield, have a strong catcher in Battey and expect Zorro Versalles to make us sound at shortstop," said Griffith.

GHS Handed Worst Loss In History By Carlisle 68-0 As Campaign Ends

Victory-less Gettysburg High School closed out its most disastrous season in history by absorbing a 68-0 shellacking at the hands of undefeated Carlisle in a South Penn Conference game at Carlisle Friday night. Huntingdon defeated Gettysburg 67-0 in 1921 for the previous high mark. It was the ninth loss this season for the Warriors while Carlisle upped its unbeaten record to 8-0.

The Warriors ran into the strongest opposition they faced all year. The Herd scored on everything imaginable, including a 97-yard runback of an intercepted pass, a 89-yard run from scrimmage, a pass-lateral play, plus punt returns.

With a 41-0 lead at intermission, Coach Ken Millen played his second string the entire third quarter with a few changes and Gettysburg was able to control the ball most of that period. They received the kickoff but were unable to score while Carlisle scored once without an offensive play. The Herd ran only two scrimmage plays in that quarter.

CARLISLE SHOWS FORM

But the rest of the game was strictly Carlisle. With a fine forward wall that opened holes and followed through in the downfield blocking, their backs had no trouble galloping down the sidelines time and time again.

It took Carlisle about 3:30 minutes to get on the scoreboard. After driving to the Gettysburg 39, Junior quarterback Bob Debolt threw a flank pass to Meryl Sherk who lateraled to fullback Jack Bloomershire, the latter scoring untouched. Sophomore Will Owens kicked the point to make it 7-0.

Gettysburg fumbled on their second play from scrimmage and Ed Owens recovered for the Herd on the 27. Debolt's pass to Carn put it on the 8, where Jack Brounger went off left tackle for the TD. Owens' kick made it 14-0.

A. Brounger intercepted a Jim Davies' pass on his 11 and on the first play burst through left guard on a quick opener to score from 89 yards away untouched. Owens made the score 21-0. Carlisle scored about two minutes later when Dean's punt was partially blocked and Owens went off left tackle, cut down the sideline to score on a 63-yard jaunt.

RETURNS PUNT 55

In the second period Bob Nye plunged across from the one after Owens' 57-yard run had placed the ball on the one. His kick made it 34-0. The next score came on a runback of Bob Dean's punt, good for 55 yards, by Gary Heishman. The kick by Owens made it 41-0 at half-time.

The third quarter saw only one score, that on a 97-yard pass interception by Heishman. The speedy halfback took the ball on the sideline, got two good blocks, and was off to pay dirt. Owens again split the uprights to increase the lead to 48-0.

The first marker in the final stanza came on a recovered fumble by Owens on the Gettysburg 14. After Bloomershire carried to the 7, Debolt went off right guard unmolested. Owens kick was good and the scoreboard read 55-0. The Herd came right back and recovered a Davies fumble as he was attempting to pass. Ten plays later, climaxing a 37-yard drive, Nye went across from the five. Owens missed the placement with less than four minutes to go.

Another Gettysburg fumble set up the last score that came with four seconds on the clock. Carlisle drove from the 43 to the four with Bloomershire and Heishman doing most of the toting. Jack Stull then carried across from that point. Owens placement was good to make the final score 68-0.

Gettysburg, who suffered its worst defeat in football history, thus gave Carlisle their 20th victory in 39 games in the series with three games ending in ties. This is the first year that Gettysburg lost as many as nine games in one season, while it is the third season in history that the team has failed to win any games. They gave up 313 points while scoring only 37 themselves.

Inauguration Of Lincoln To Be Re-enacted March 4

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Inauguration of the Union's war President, Abraham Lincoln, will be reenacted here next March 4 with parades and pageantry in a manner that will exceed those that marked the occasion 100 years ago, Paul J. Sedgwick, chairman of the District of Columbia Civil War Centennial Commission, announced today.

One of the highlights of the program will be a joint session of Congress at which Raymond Massey, star of stage and screen widely recognized for his portrayal of the Civil War President, is expected to deliver Lincoln's first inaugural address, a speech to the nation that the South watched closely in order to determine whether or not the attitude of the incoming executive would be coercive.

A general invitation to the public to attend will be issued. Co-chairmen of the committee in charge of plans are Earl Chesney, liaison official of the White House staff, and C. Wyatt Dickerson, local businessman of wide promotional experience.

OPEN WITH PARADE

"We hope that everyone in the country learns about the unusual holiday being planned in the nation's capital for March 4, 1961," Sedgwick wrote in a recent communication with the Centennial Commission.

As now projected, the inaugural re-enactment will open with a giant parade down Pennsylvania Avenue, the route followed by Presidents on their way to and from office. This will take place during the latter part of the morning and will conclude with the joint session of Congress at noon. A luncheon and commemorative program at the Willard Hotel, the wartime meeting place of Lincoln and his military leaders, will follow.

That night a colorful costume inaugural ball will be held at the Sheraton-Park Hotel. Civil War music and a widespread assortment of pageantry will be included as a part of the program at that time.

Already busy on plans for next year, Mr. Sedgwick announced that headquarters for the District Commission has been opened at 1009 Barr Building, Washington 6, D. C.

In January an information center for the convenience of visitors to the city will be set up in the old Belasco Theater facing Lafayette Square in front of the White House.

THE GRAVES OF THE DEMAREE FAMILY

The genealogical notes pertaining to the Demaree (or Demorest) family of New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania are continued at this time.

The "legal issue" of David (6) Demaree and his wife, Elizabeth Schlegel, of the Low Dutch Settlement of the Conewago, is continued as follows:

7. Magdalena (7) Demaree — Born June 14, 1787 — married Cornelius Berkaw — emigrated "to the west" with her husband and young family — died in 1821, before her father and mother — her children are listed by name in her father's will.

8. Elizabeth (7) Demaree — born December 17, 1789 — married October 12, 1815, to Jacob the son of Adam and Sophia Essicks — moved to Stark County, Ohio, and settled on land owned by Daniel Schlegel, the grandfather of Elizabeth (Demaree) Essicks — died on December 1, 1879.

9. Garrett (7) Demaree — born May 1, 1792 — died (unmarried) of yellow fever in the State of Georgia in September of 1823. Garrett (7) Demaree was, by profession, a portrait painter.

10. Samuel (7) Demaree — born April 19, 1796 — married to Jane Willoughby — emigrated first to Ohio and from thence to Illinois.

MARRIED IN 1784

This concludes the genealogical notes on the family of the sixth David Demaree.

David (5) Demaree and his first wife, Gertrude Lydecker, were, as stated last week in this column, the parents of four children of whom the second was — 2. Garrett (6) Demaree — born April 18, 1754 — married about 1784 to Jannette (or Jane) Parsel at Conewago. The wife of Garrett (6) Demaree died at Conewago and it is buried in the "Upper" Low

LEST WE FORGET ...

Here are ten examples of unnecessary major national embarrassments resulting directly from Eisenhower-Nixon Administration inertia and ineptitude, and what leading authorities have said about them:

1. May 1960—The U-2 Fiasco, or How Not to Prepare for a Summit. Walter Lippmann: "These blunders have not only angered the Russians and wrecked the Summit conference but, much worse than all that, they have cast doubt among our allies and among our own people on our competence to lead the Western alliance on the issues of peace and war." (May 19, 1960.)
2. 1959—Cuba: Anti-U. S. Sentiment Rampant on Our Doorstep. The Washington Post: "No matter how North Americans may deplore the excesses of his government, Fidel Castro's emergence in 1959 was a symptom of deep disorders in hemisphere relations. At root, the deterioration is based on the feeling that Washington has neglected its neighbors, that the State Department (and Pentagon) have been too cozy with the hemisphere's dictators in the past, and that not enough has been done to bridge the chasm between the affluent United States and its impoverished neighbors." (Jan. 4, 1960.)
3. 1958—Second Recession in Four Years. The New York Times: "The Administration's policy of attacking the steadily lengthening business recession by the device of wishful thinking seems to have moved into the desperation stage this week." (May 2, 1958.)
4. 1958—Former "Good Neighbors" Throw Rocks at Nixon. Walter Lippmann: "It is manifest that the whole South American tour was misconceived, that it was planned by men who did not know what was the state of mind in the cities the Vice President was to visit. We must fix and we must correct the causes which led our officials into this fiasco —into what it would not be exaggeration to call a diplomatic Pearl Harbor." (May 15, 1958.)
5. 1957—Sputnik Goes Into Orbit and U. S. Prestige Takes a Nose Dive. George V. Allen, director of the U. S. Information Agency: "The achievement of placing in orbit the first earth satellite increased the prestige of the Soviet Union tremendously and produced and corresponding loss of U. S. prestige, due primarily to the contrast." (Jan. 22, 1960.)
6. 1957—Little Rock: Paratroops Open a School. Philadelphia Inquirer: "... looking back over the events of the past three weeks, the feeling persists that firm and prompt action might have halted the trouble in Little Rock before it got so far out of hand that drastic moves were considered necessary." (Sept. 26, 1957.)
7. 1956—Suez: U. S. vs. Its Allies. The News and Observer, Raleigh, S. C.: "It is now quite evident to the whole world that American diplomacy has collapsed and that American prestige has reached its lowest point in many years." (Nov. 5, 1956.)
8. 1956—Hungary: Brave Men Die Because They Believed a GUN Star. C. L. Sulzberger, The New York Times: "We had no program worked out ahead defining our attitude in case of uprising among Soviet satellites. There had already been the early warning of East Germany's revolt. At least by inference we encouraged the desperate Hungarians. But we were caught without a plan of action." (Nov. 25, 1957.)
9. 1953-60—The Benson Saga: Billions Spent to Make the Farmers Worse Off. Pittsburgh Post-Gazette: "... the farm program appears to have gone from bad to worse. After nearly five years, Mr. Benson can point to little more than disillusionment with a costly soil bank program which lent itself to monstrous fraud, to subsidy spending at the rate of about $5.5 billion a year, and to $8 billion worth of surpluses which apparently neither Mr. Benson nor anyone else can manage." (Oct. 12, 1957.)
10. June 1960—Japan: Administration "Misjudgment" Forces Cancellation of Ike Visit. Washington Evening Star: "Secretary of State Herter today conceded the Administration's judgment was poor and its information was bad in the case of President Eisenhower's cancelled good-will trip to Japan. ... Secretary Herter said any incorrect evaluation of the magnitude of the demonstrations in Tokyo was a 'collective judgment' and 'you can pin it on me.' He acknowledged that the White House had concurred." (June 21, 1960.)

Former AEC Head Writes Of "Third Generation Weapon"

NEW YORK (AP)—Thomas E. Murray, former atomic energy commissioner, tells of a "third generation weapon, as radically different from the H-bomb as the H-bomb was from the Hiroshima-type A-bomb."

In an open letter released Thursday night to presidential candidates Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy, in which Murray again urged resumption of nuclear tests the former AEC head said:

"The new weapon will not be a larger and more efficient H-bomb, nor a smaller and more efficient A-bomb. It is primarily anti-personnel in destination and effect. And it need not create suicidal hazards for the country that employs it."

CITE "NEUTRON BOMB"

Murray also said: "I take it for granted the Soviet Union is developing nuclear technology along this revolutionary line."

In Washington, some unidentified nuclear physicists speculated that Murray was talking about what has been called a "neutron bomb"—a weapon that would actually be a small, mobile, nuclear reactor and a junior-sized version of reactors already used to propel submarines and to generate electricity.

The AEC refused to comment on the statement by Murray, who headed the commission from 1950 until 1957.

In Chicago Thursday night a nuclear physicist said Murray "doubtless refers to the neutron bomb, two different sizes of which on the drawing boards have been openly referred to as 'dove' and 'starling.'"

OF DUBIOUS VALUE

David R. Inglis, Argonne National Laboratory physicist and past chairman of the Federation of American Scientists, added:

"This is not fantastically different from present weapons as he (Murray) claims. It is not a 'third generation' beyond the H-bomb but merely a scaling down of the A-bomb to a low efficiency to make it give out more neutron radiation than blast damage."

"It is of dubious military value because many of its victims on the battlefield will be condemned to die of radiation sickness on following days and can afford to be very brave in the meantime."

2 YOUTHS ARE LOST IN PLOT TO BOMB CUBA

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Two young Americans set out Halloween in a stolen plane from Fort Pierce, Fla., to bomb Havana, the Miami News said Friday. They never arrived.

In a copyright story by Hal Hendrix, Latin-American editor, the News said "two youthful American soldiers of fortune, whose mission could have shaken the hemisphere far beyond the explosive power of their homemade bombs, are now missing."

The story continued: "There was to have been a dramatic stroke of revenge for the summary execution of three Americans and 15 Cubans by the Castro government."

"They had even printed the names of the three Americans on the bomb casings that they filled with black powder and scrap iron. They carried a dozen 'Molotov cocktails,' too."

BOTH ARE MISSING

Whether their plane went down at sea, fell into Castro hands, crashed or landed in a remote area of Cuba or some other island is a question still to be answered, the News added.

The newspaper said it learned of the background of the flight from "the very best sources" and the story was confirmed in some details by the theft of a plane from its hangar at Fort Pierce Monday night.

The News said that last Saturday Paul Hughes, 31, former volunteer in Fidel Castro's revolutionary air force, who broke with the Cuban leader over communism, met with Jay Hunter, 28, in Miami.

Hard-Shell Squashes May Be Stored For 3 To 6 Months

By FRANK S. ZETTLE
Adams County Farm Agent

Soft-skinned varieties of pumpkins do not keep in storage for as long as the usual storage varieties. Varieties like Connecticut Field and the Cushaws are poor keepers, and you cannot expect them to stay in good condition for more than two or three months.

But the hard-shelled squashes such as the Hubbards, the large Cheese, Table Queen, Butternut and others may be kept for three to six months in storage. They must be well cured.

All varieties must be well matured, carefully handled and free from injury or decay when put in storage. Less rot will occur if the stems are removed before curing. A preliminary curing at 80 to 85 degrees for about two weeks is beneficial. This helps when you are ripening immature specimens and healing mechanical injuries caused during harvesting.

50 TO 55 DEGREES
The best storage temperature for pumpkins and winter squash is from 50 to 55 degrees with a relatively low humidity of about 70 to 75 per cent.

Hard-shelled squash or pumpkins intended for storage should be harvested and partially cured even before the first frost occurs. A light breeze or very heavy frost will injure their keeping qualities.

Thorough cleaning of the poultry house may not prevent some ailments. The practice, however, never contributes to flock troubles.

URGES USING BLOWERS

In many cases, adequate dry cleaning followed by power spraying destroys or removes organisms which might be present to affect the new flock. Using a blower to remove dust is a sound practice after the litter and dried adhering filth has been removed from the building and equipment. Power disinfection destroys organisms or parasites lurking in crevices.

Many organisms are destroyed or washed out of the building when water under pressure is used for cleaning. Adequate floor drains and prompt removal of such water is necessary, especially in frame structures and multi-story buildings to prevent damage to the building.

When scrubbing is necessary, a hot lye solution makes an effective cleansing and disinfecting agent. One 12-ounce can of lye is used with 20 to 30 gallons of water. In handling this material one should be cautious to avoid painful burns. Additional treatment to control mites is advisable.

The house and equipment should be allowed to dry out well before litter is placed on the floor and in the nests.

FORAGE TESTING SERVICE

When properly used, the Penn State Forage Testing Service can increase returns an average of about $44 per cow. This relatively new service already has helped dairy men to boost milk production as much as 3,000 pounds per cow, reduce their grain costs by as much as $25 per ton, and increase their returns over feed costs by as much as $134 per cow! In addition, many cows fed according to feeding programs developed by our Forage Testing Service have had less trouble from mastitis, udder congestion, ketosis or acetoneemia and milk fever. Breeding problems apparently have been reduced in some herds as well. These improvements have been obtained at an average cost of $15 per farm yearly. In other words, the extra returns from one cow in most herds will more than pay the costs of forage testing for the entire herd. To obtain these benefits a dairyman must be willing to closely follow the suggested feeding programs provided. Be sure to contact your Agricultural Extension office in the court house on how to make use of the Penn State Forage Testing Service. This service features forage analysis and feeding programs.

The Weeders Guide

By EARL ARONSON

The Associated Press

Lightning is good for your garden. In his book, "Ways of the Weather," W. J. Humphreys explains that "lightning disrupts many of the oxygen, nitrogen and water vapor molecules along its course. Many of these elements combine as a new substance. These new combinations form ammonia and nitrous and nitric acids in the presence of water vapor. He adds:

"This ammonia promotes plant growth and both nitrogen acids, on reaching the ground, produce compounds with substances in the soil which make excellent plant food, from which one correctly infers thunderstorms above enrich the earth beneath."

Are you trying to avoid salt in your food? Use herbs for a seasoning and season your garden with herbs. Herbs also may be grown in a window box. Thyme, mint, rosemary, sage, sweet marjoram, winter savory and parsley should do well. Start new plants in the fall in flower pots or in window boxes. Give them lots of sunlight.

Garden herbs may be dried and stored for winter use. When drying herbs, select clean, fresh, tender young leaves. Wash them and lay them out in shallow trays. Cover them with a single layer of cheesecloth and set them in a shady, dry place until the leaves are dry enough to crumble. Pack the dried herbs in clean dry jars with airtight lids. When you are ready to use them, crumble and rub the dried leaves through a sieve to remove stems and thick ribs.

When buying dry herbs, purchase in small quantities. Keep covers on containers as much as possible. When the herbs smell dusty, it is time to get a fresh supply.

If your indoor plant's foliage wiener roast, games and prizes followed the ride which was held at the Fellowship Hall. Sunday the Holtzschwamm Church will be host to the York District Luther League. About 300 people are expected to attend, starting at 6:30 p.m.

A bridal shower in honor of Miss Jean Bosserman was held recently at the home of Mrs. John Haar with Mrs. Rowlen Hoffman as co-hostess. Miss Bosserman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bosserman, East Berlin R. 1, and will wed Kenneth Stambaugh, Sunday. Games were played and refreshments served to the following guests: Mrs. Kenneth Stambaugh, Mrs. Harry Stambaugh, Mrs. George Myers, Miss Nancy Stambaugh, Mrs. Ray Myers, Mrs. Luther Rohrbaugh, Mrs. John Baumgardner, Mrs. Burnell Dubs, Mrs. Helen Bosserman, Mrs. Rowlen Hoffman, Mrs. John Haar, Mary Ann Myers, Bonita Schieb and Grace Bosserman.

begins to yellow, it may be a signal to transfer it to a larger pot. The best time to repot is in the spring when the plant is growing most vigorously. This peak strength will help it withstand the shocks of transplanting.

Clay pots are considered best for house plants. They admit moisture and air through their porous walls. Soak a pot for 24 hours before using it. In this way, it won't absorb moisture from the soil around the plant roots.

Don't pack the soil too hard in the pot. Moisten the soil enough so that it will just about hold together in a ball. When the repotting is completed, water the soil to make sure it settles around the roots. Keep the plants in a fairly shady place for several days to prevent loss of moisture.

How can you keep your house plants safely moist while you are away on a two week vacation?

Stand them in saucers of water. Or water them well and stand the pots in boxes packed with wet paper or wet peat moss, in a draft-free, shady place.

It is quite safe to plant roses in the fall if the winter temperature doesn't go below zero. If you do plant in the fall, make sure you give the bushes adequate winter protection. Hill the soil six to eight inches around the stems. After the first freeze, the rest of the plant should be covered with straw, hay or some other material.

If you plant in the fall, you may expect flowers 10 days to two weeks earlier in the spring. This is due to the earlier establishment of the root system. In preparing the soil for the rose bed, add about one shovelful of peat moss for every three of earth.

Quite like a pogo stick is this lawn aerator. Each time you press it into the soil it makes three nail size holes to permit air and moisture to get to the root of some of your grass troubles. It

FRIENDS OF PUBLIC EDUCATION

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

As Executive Secretary of the Pennsylvania State School Directors Association, I have known Mr. George Goodling for several years in connection with my legislative work in the Pennsylvania State Legislature. I retired from this position as Executive Secretary after 23 years service on May 1, 1960.

I found Mr. Goodling to be a hard working, conscientious legislator with courage to stand by his convictions. He was vitally interested in education both from the standpoint of the teacher and the school board. He supported legislation to provide increased subsidies to school districts to the end that better salaries could be paid to teachers.

Mr. Goodling kept himself well informed by study and inquiry on all educational legislation. I feel that he voted at all times for the best interests of the teachers and school districts as well as his constituents who must pay the costs directly or indirectly.

Mr. Goodling was always ready to sponsor or co-sponsor sound educational legislation and did this on many occasions. I am pleased to say that Mr. Goodling is a true and loyal friend of education.

Sincerely yours,

P. O. Van Ness

Nixon And Kennedy Believe Pennsylvania Balloting On Tuesday May Be A Tossup

By JAMES E. WALTERS
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Democrats have carried Pennsylvania in a presidential election only four times in the last 100 years. But both the Democrats and Republicans obviously feel it could happen for a fifth time next Tuesday — and this despite President Eisenhower's winning margin of more than 600,000 in 1956.

Why the abrupt flip-flop? Many things, of course, but basically the Democratic candidate—Sen. John F. Kennedy—has three things going for him in his drive for the state's 32 electoral votes:

(1) All-out backing from the big city machines in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh and from the Democratic state administration; (2) economically depressed conditions in the coal mines, railroads and steel mills of this highly industrialized state and (3) a Democratic edge in registration (by about 3,000 out of a little more than five million voters) for the first time in Pennsylvania history.

EXPECT CITY MAJORITIES
Vice President Richard M. Nixon, on the other hand, is immensely popular outside the larger cities. Most observers concede he will win possibly 55 of the state's 67 counties, but the question is whether this largely rural and suburban vote can offset Kennedy majorities of perhaps 180,000 in Philadelphia and 75,000 in Pittsburgh.

In the background, of course, is Kennedy's religion. About 3 out of every 10 Pennsylvania adults are Roman Catholic. This, without question, will help Kennedy, but whether enough to offset anti-Catholic feeling in largely Protestant areas is a big imponderable.

VOTE IS TOSSUP
That both Nixon and Kennedy figure the state's 32 electoral votes a toss-up is shown by the time they were here during the campaign. They and their running mates between them spent all or part of 30 days campaigning in Pennsylvania. The Republicans also twice sent in President Eisenhower, the gentleman farmer from Gettysburg, Pa., while the Democrats used former President Truman and Adlai Stevenson.

In 1952, Eisenhower defeated Stevenson in this state by 2,415,789 to 2,146,269. In 1956 it was 2,385,252 to 1,981,769. Franklin D. Roosevelt carried the state three times. Woodrow Wilson in 1912 was the other Democratic winner.

On the other hand, Al Smith, a Catholic and the Democratic candidate in 1928, lost to Herbert Hoover by almost a million votes. That a Catholic can win a statewide race in Pennsylvania, however, was demonstrated for the first time in 1958 when David L. Lawrence, long mayor of Pittsburgh, won the governorship by 77,000 votes while the incumbent governor, George Leader, a Democrat, lost a bid to the U.S. Senate by 112,000 votes to Hugh Scott. Lawrence's edge in Philadelphia alone was about 175,000 and Stevenson carried the city by 160,000 once and 123,000 the second time. Thus the key to Kennedy's chances seems to lie in the size of the Philadelphia majority. City Democratic Chairman William J. Green Jr. is predicting a margin of 250,000 in this once Republican stronghold.

DISCOUNT CLAIM
Wilbur Hamilton, Philadelphia's Republican chairman, calls the 250,000 figure ridiculous, saying it won't be more than 140,000—if that much. And the state Republican chairman, George Bloom, predicts the Republicans will pile up a bigger majority in the counties around Philadelphia than the

DE GAULLE PLAN NOT SUITABLE TO ALGERIANS

By ULYS YATES

PARIS (AP) — Angry outcries from leftist and rightist extremists today greeted President Charles de Gaulle's threat to take emergency powers and call a national referendum on a new course for Algeria.

In a nationwide radio and television address Friday night the 69-year-old soldier-president declared his policy in Algeria, now in its seventh year of war with nationalist rebels, "no longer leads to an Algeria governed by metropolitan France, but an Algerian Algeria."

In the end, he said, "responsibility for Algerian affairs, at every level, will be assumed by Algerians" and the country will have "its own government, its own institutions, its own laws."

MUST KEEP HEAD
To achieve this, he threatened to invoke powers entrusted to him by the constitution, to take over the nation in single-handed rule.

Democrats can do inside the city. As for Lawrence, the state's national committeeman, he said after touring with Kennedy that the senator will carry Pennsylvania even without a whopping majority in Philadelphia, which casts one-fifth the state's vote.

THE UNDERSIGNED CITIZENS OF ADAMS COUNTY SINCERELY BELIEVE THAT THE INTERESTS OF OUR COUNTY, OUR STATE, AND OUR NATION WILL BEST BE SERVED BY THE ELECTION OF SENATOR JOHN F. KENNEDY TO THE OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES ON TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 8TH.

WE THEREFORE APPEAL TO OUR FELLOW ADAMS COUNTIANS TO CONSIDER CAREFULLY THE FOLLOWING FACTS AS THEY PREPARE TO CAST THEIR BALLOTS IN THIS IMPORTANT ELECTION:

1. The next President, whoever he may be, will have to deal with a Democratically controlled Congress. In the crucial times ahead America cannot afford the continuance of a divided government.

2. America requires fresh, energetic, and intelligent leadership in the presidential office. In the campaign just ending it seems to us that Senator Kennedy has proven that he can provide these things.

3. The election of Senator Kennedy to the presidency poses no vital threat to the liberties which all Americans of whatever religious faith hold dear. It is time for us to show the world that we genuinely believe in and support the Constitutional provision: "No religious Test shall ever be required as a Qualification to Office or public trust under the United States."

4. Senator Kennedy has a judicious mixture of youthful enthusiasm and long experience. As a member of Congress for fourteen years, serving on important committees (including the vital Senate Foreign Relations Committee), he has had an unique opportunity to become familiar with our problems, foreign and domestic.

5. Of the two major candidates for the presidency, Senator Kennedy has demonstrated a greater awareness of the need for concerted and cooperative action to make our economy stronger, our schools better, medical care more available, and the rights of our citizens—regardless of race, color, or creed—more secure.

FOR THESE AND MANY OTHER REASONS, WE APPEAL TO THE VOTERS OF ADAMS COUNTY TO GIVE THEIR SUPPORT ON NOVEMBER 8TH TO SENATOR JOHN F. KENNEDY IN HIS CANDIDACY FOR THE OFFICE OF PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.

3,100 HEAR IKE TELL OF HIGHER TAXES

PITTSBURGH (AP) — President Eisenhower Friday night declared that federal taxes will "skyrocket" or "higher prices will return" if the Democrats win the presidential election next Tuesday.

Eisenhower attacked the campaign tactics of John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential candidate. He urged all-out support for Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican standard bearer.

The President told a rally of 3,100 at a dinner that he was urging support of Nixon and his running mate, Henry Cabot Lodge because he is concerned "for the future of the United States and your hopes for peace with justice in freedom."

"SWOLLEN COSTS"
The Democratic platform, the President declared in a speech televised nationally by NBC, would mean "swollen costs and mushrooming expenditures."

"Our opponents, of course, are experts at assuring us that neither higher taxes nor deficit spending will be used to meet additional costs. But all history shows the absurdity of this claim."

"This is a time for woodshed honesty — even if the American people have to apply a little woodshed discipline to get it. Unless they do, the American family will pay the costs of its family budget because either federal taxes will skyrocket once again or the cheap dollar and higher prices will return."

The President said America "must have leadership — leadership of the very finest kind that we can produce. In this campaign only in Richard Nixon and Ambassador Lodge is the best of such leadership found. The possess a rich experience in waging the kind of war in which we are now engaged: in meeting the needs of our nation to support our world purposes and in leading us to victory."

THE UNDERSIGNED CITIZENS OF ADAMS COUNTY SINCERELY BELIEVE THAT THE INTERESTS OF OUR COUNTY, OUR STATE, AND OUR NATION WILL BEST BE SERVED BY THE ELECTION OF SENATOR JOHN F. KENNEDY TO THE OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES ON TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 8TH.

WE THEREFORE APPEAL TO OUR FELLOW ADAMS COUNTIANS TO CONSIDER CAREFULLY THE FOLLOWING FACTS AS THEY PREPARE TO CAST THEIR BALLOTS IN THIS IMPORTANT ELECTION:

1. The next President, whoever he may be, will have to deal with a Democratically controlled Congress. In the crucial times ahead America cannot afford the continuance of a divided government.

2. America requires fresh, energetic, and intelligent leadership in the presidential office. In the campaign just ending it seems to us that Senator Kennedy has proven that he can provide these things.

3. The election of Senator Kennedy to the presidency poses no vital threat to the liberties which all Americans of whatever religious faith hold dear. It is time for us to show the world that we genuinely believe in and support the Constitutional provision: "No religious Test shall ever be required as a Qualification to Office or public trust under the United States."

4. Senator Kennedy has a judicious mixture of youthful enthusiasm and long experience. As a member of Congress for fourteen years, serving on important committees (including the vital Senate Foreign Relations Committee), he has had an unique opportunity to become familiar with our problems, foreign and domestic.

5. Of the two major candidates for the presidency, Senator Kennedy has demonstrated a greater awareness of the need for concerted and cooperative action to make our economy stronger, our schools better, medical care more available, and the rights of our citizens—regardless of race, color, or creed—more secure.

BRIEFS

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Mrs. Irvin R. MacElwee, president of the Republican Women of Pennsylvania, says the name of her group is being used "scurrilously" on a recorded telephone message.

The message, she said Friday in a speech, injects the religious issue into the presidential campaign. She said several Catholic Republican women had heard it and have complained to her. The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania is investigating.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A young man who had not had any Salk shots died of polio Friday. He was the city's first victim of the disease this year.

Gary Hibler, 22, became ill on Oct. 28 and entered a hospital two days later. He was placed in a dollar and higher prices will return."

The President said America "must have leadership — leadership of the very finest kind that we can produce. In this campaign only in Richard Nixon and Ambassador Lodge is the best of such leadership found. The possess a rich experience in waging the kind of war in which we are now engaged: in meeting the needs of our nation to support our world purposes and in leading us to victory."

3 Girl Members Of Band Killed

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — Three girls, apparently members of a high school band, died Friday night when the car in which they were riding crashed into a tree. A fourth girl was injured critically.

The dead were tentatively identified as Linda Shutter, 17, of Hershey; Bonita Christ, 16, of Hershey; and Christina Park, 16, of Hummelstown.

Eileen Petrucci, 16, of Hershey was reported in critical condition at Harrisburg Hospital with undetermined injuries.

State police said the car in which the girls were riding careened off the East Derry Road just south of the State Police Academy and hit the tree. Two of the girls died almost immediately, and the third at Hershey Hospital.

Band uniforms were found in the wrecked car, but it was not immediately determined which school the girls attended.

MANILA (AP) — Police reported today that while Carlos Umbos, 29, was fishing in Pampanga, a fish jumped in his mouth. He choked to death before the fish could be pulled out.

GARY HIBLER, 22, became ill on Oct. 28 and entered a hospital two days later. He was placed in a

WRITES PIECE OF "IF SOUTH HAD WON WAR"

U. N. Secretary To Meet Congolese

HST PREDICTS
GOP DEFEAT

where's JOHNNY?
Profile Of An Empty Chair

If the South had won the Civil War . . . Columbus, Ohio, would be the capital of the United States . . . The Confederate States of America and the Republic of Texas would have been established . . . Cuba would be a state in the Confederacy . . . Slavery would have been abolished by choice in the South in 1885 . . . Lincoln would have been imprisoned in a Confederate jail.

At least, that's how MacKinlay Kantor, a lifelong student of the Civil War, feels history would have been written had Dixie been victorious.

Kantor, whose historical fantasy appears in the November 22 issue of Look Magazine, feels that one or two slight switches of events in the summer of 1863 might have meant victory for the South. For example.

If Confederate Gen. Longstreet had not been late at Gettysburg, it's probable that Gen. Lee would have won the battle . . .

"NORTH SUE FOR PEACE"
If Gen. Grant had been thrown from a horse and died before the battle of Vicksburg, the North might have been forced to sue for peace and Southern leaders would have held a mammoth victory ball at the White House . . .

Kantor, however, does not see America remaining a nation divided. Spurred by the efforts of "Consolidationists" such as Confederate President Woodrow Wilson, the three nations ultimately join together into a new United States of America.

As a matter of fact, Kantor's
topsy-turvy crystal ball pinpoints December 20, 1960, the 100th anniversary of South Carolina's secession from the Union, as the official opening of a conference of the three nations for bringing about unification.

If the South had won the War and if all the above-mentioned events had taken place . . . Kantor advises that the initial session of the unification conference will be televised on December 20 at 9 p.m., Eastern Standard
Time, that is.

Gettysburg is given considerable prominence in Kantor's article.

A hurricane that hit Florida in November, 1935, was called
"Yankee Storm" because it moved in from the north.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold confers today with the head of the U. N. Congo mission amid charges the United Nations is trying to place the new African country under its trusteeship.

Pascal Kappella, Congo information minister, told his nation by radio Friday there was a "sinister plot to invade the Congo" and place it under a U. N.
trusteeship. He said an invasion by Ghanian, Guinean and Moro-can troops was imminent and called on all Congolese to "defend our republic to the death."
He said any of his people who collaborated with the United Nations would be arrested and charged with treason.

Rajeshwar Dayal, the Indian
head of the U. N. Congo mission, has accused Belgian nationals of trying to influence the Congo against the United Nations.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman told a cheering Democratic rally Friday night that Vice President Richard M. Nixon and the Republican party will lose the election next Tuesday "because it is the same old Republican party and the same old Nixon."

Truman, final speaker at the rally, got a foot-stomping, cheering reception. Some in the crowd greeted him with cries of "Give
'em hell, Harry."

Referring to President Eisenhower, who was speaking at the same time in a hotel a mile away, Truman said:
"I do not believe that he (Nixon) really feels the confidence in himself that he wants the voters to feel. If he does, why should he find it necessary to campaign on the shoulders of Eisenhower and to pretend that a vote for him is really a vote for a third term?"

"The general needs a rest. The remaining energies that he can spare from his own pursuits might better be reserved for any future service he might care to give his country at large."

Truman praised Sen. John F.
Kennedy, the Democratic presidential candidate, as a man who "has always been up front, fighting the good fight to bring help to the unemployed, the elderly, the sick and disabled, and the underprivileged—and giving it everything he had in him."

For a man who loudly professes to offer strong, alert, on-the-job leadership in the White House, "Johnny" Kennedy sets a most contradictory example while supposedly "tending shop" in the United States Senate.

As of July 5th, at the close of the regular session of this 86th Congress which began January 6th, there had been 171 roll call votes. Senator Kennedy has been ABSENT during 129 of these votes—votes on some of the most important legislation acted upon by the Congress.

For example, Kennedy:

Woman Is Held
In Vote Fraud

DOYLESTOWN, Pa. (AP) — A society of scientists with the avowed purpose of promoting peace has been granted a charter despite protests by the American Legion.

President Judge Edward G.
Biester of Bucks County Court
Friday granted the charter to the Society for Social Responsibility in Science.

The judge said the society must be given "full protection of constitutional guarantees" even if its ideas are "unorthodox, controversial or even hateful."

The society is dedicated to upholding "the principle that the individual must abstain from destructive work and devote himself to constructive work, drawing the line between the two according to his own judgment."

Howard Maxwell, director of alumni relations at Gettysburg College, spoke Thursday evening at a meeting of the AAUW education study group on the value of a merged school system and on new experiments in the educational field. He said the "greatest contribution a local community can make to national greatness is through its schools. Mergers create better and more effective school systems, provide sounder financial basis for the schools and

The American Legion chapter in Bucks and Montgomery counties opposed the charter application, contending that the society could weaken the nation's defense.
The society, organized 11 years ago in Haverford, claims more than 350 members, including Dr.
Linus Pauling and the late Dr.
Albert Einstein, both Nobel Peace Prize winners.

enable the schools to do more for young people with special talents or problems." Maxwell said a number of communities he has known have lost opportunities to secure new industry as a result of having inferior school systems.
"At the present time industries are not only looking for favorable conditions specifically affecting their immediate operations, but are also extremely concerned over the need for an intelligent and well-educated labor force and good schools for maintaining this type of labor force. The individuals most affected by the merger are those who cannot vote, the children," he said.

PARIS (AP) — Mrs. Raissa Maritain, 77, author and poet and wife of the noted French Catholic philosopher, Jacques Maritain, died Friday in their Paris home.
Her husband is a member of the Institute of Advanced Studies at Princeton University.

No testimony was taken Friday
by Judge Charles A. Waters. He read the transcript of the proceedings before Magistrate Thomas A. Marotta last week, then held Mrs. Stacie Wearing, 38, on $500 bail.

She was charged with accepting fraudulent votes, willful neglect of duty and giving a false address at last year's general election.
Mrs. Wearing, a Democrat, was majority inspector of an election board.

Al Smith's Daughter LOOKS AT THE RECORD and CASTS HER VOTE FOR RICHARD M. NIXON

TELLS WHY HER FATHER WOULD HAVE ENDORSED HER DETERMINATION TO SUPPORT VICE PRESIDENT NIXON

Here is what Mrs. Emily Smith Warner says:

Comforted by the realization that both candidates for the Presidency agree that no one should vote for or against a candidate by reason of race or religion, I have asked myself what my father in his wisdom and patriotism would do in this coming election.

He would reject, as I do, every appeal to racial or religious bigotry or solidarity. He would reaffirm, as I do, in unmeasured terms, that no true American should allow his vote to be influenced either way by any appeal either to religious prejudice or religious solidarity.

Coming to the real issue, I am satisfied that he would endorse my determination to support Vice President Nixon for the Presidency. I intend to cast my vote for Mr. Nixon for these reasons:

FIRST: The world crisis requires that we have seasoned, able and experienced leadership in the White House. I do not oppose Senator Kennedy because he is young in years, but rather because he is immature in thought.

SECOND: This quality which my father would have called half-baked thinking is evidenced by his unfortunate efforts to disparage our achievements as a nation and by unfair partisan attacks on President Eisenhower. The fact is that under President Eisenhower this country, starting from scratch at the beginning of his Administration, has been acclaimed throughout the free world for its achievement in missile and space science. We stand today at the peak of our military power.

THIRD: Further, it is evidenced in Senator Kennedy's irresponsible slander of our country in its foreign relations. No one could steer through the last eight years without some error.

JURIST DOES NOT BELIEVE DEFENDANTS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The jurors are still divided, but the judge has told them in a taut and turbulent session of the Finch trial that he believes a murder was committed and he doesn't believe the defendants.

As they opened their 17th day of deliberation at the second trial of Dr. R. Bernard Finch and Carole Tregoff today, the jurors had these electrifying developments behind them:

1. Superior Court Judge LeRoy Dawson, interrupting deliberations Friday, called in the jury and said: "The explanation given by the defendant Finch as to the circumstances surrounding the firing of the fatal shot to me does not sound reasonable in any of its aspects. And it appears to me to have been concocted by him in an attempt to justify what is shown by the evidence, in my opinion, to be the wilful and deliberate taking of a human life"—that of the doctor's wife, Barbara Jean Finch.

CITED BY DAWSON
2. Defense attorney Grant B. Cooper twice jumped from his chair to object to the judge's statement—accusing him of invading the jury's province—and was twice cited by Dawson for contempt.

The defendants sobbed at the counsel table upon hearing the judge's statement.

Finch, 42, and Miss Tregoff, 23, his ex-mistress, are accused of killing Mrs. Finch to avoid a costly divorce settlement. Finch testified that he and Carole went to see Mrs. Finch to talk about divorce and that she was shot accidentally in a struggle over the gun she had pulled.

JURY NOT BOUND
Dawson emphasized the jury was not bound to abide by his views. But he said he was entitled to comment under the law and the state constitution.

One point covered by the judge was the testimony of John Patrick Cody, a Minneapolis hoodlum who was a key state witness. Cody testified Finch and Miss Tregoff paid him to kill Mrs. Finch.

The defendants say they hired Cody to try to seduce Mrs. Finch or in some other way to get evidence that could be used against her in a divorce action.

"To my mind," the judge said, "the testimony given by the witness John Cody regarding the purpose for which he was employed by the defendants was much more believable than the testimony of the two defendants."

ISHBEL ROSS FEARS LOSS OF BIOGRAPHIES

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor
NEW YORK (AP)—Ishbel Ross is a jolly little blonde Scotswoman who looks like the last person in the world to hang crepe.

But she's worried these days about the survival of something close to her heart—biography.

"I'm afraid it's going to be killed off," she said a few days ago as her latest book—on the queen of Chicago society, Mrs. Potter Palmer—rolled off the presses. "Everybody is writing his own biography, or having it ghosted."

"This terrible urge of self-confession that's rampant," and she sniffed, "is going to affect the whole biographical period."

"And besides, nowadays nobody keeps diaries, or even writes letters you can call letters. There are no more charming epistles being penned in violet ink and tied together by a ribbon to be discovered by a biographer."

"LAVENDER AND LACE"
This might make Miss Ross sound like a lavender and old lace type. The truth is, she's been a hardheaded reporter since about World War I. For years she covered top news events for the New York Herald Tribune, and she's still the tireless reporter in re-searching her books.

"I go after biographical facts the same way I would cover a story," she explained. "I study the historical scene, read books of the period, travel extensively and interview innumerable people."

"I hope always to be the objective reporter, dealing in facts. Readers are intelligent. They can draw their own conclusions. They don't have to have facts digested for them. If you've been a reporter as long as I have, you can't do a pontifical job of great significant interpretation; you can't take yourself that seriously."

WORKED ON PAPERS
Miss Ross left Scotland after finishing school, worked on Canadian newspapers for awhile, then joined Herald Tribune in 1919. On an assignment in 1922 she met and married Bruce Rae of the New York Times, and they're still a happy couple.

The Cleveland Indians have signed ex-pitcher Ted Wilks as a pitching coach and scout for 1961.

"A Villain Is Not A Villain"

The difference between a choir boy and a TV "heavy" is how you look at it, according to actor James Coburn.

One of the most sought-after "heavies" in TV, Coburn scoffs at the tag.

"There is no such thing as a heavy. And there is no such thing as a hero," he says.

"These are the limitations of melodrama. But that's not the day it is. The actor is just painting a character.

"A villain is not a villain, when you play him. To the actor, the bad guy is justified in what he does. He becomes a villain only in the eyes of the audience.

"NOT PLAYABLE"

"A villain, as such, is not playable. The terminology "heavy" would limit everything to black and white when, really, all the colors of the emotional spectrum are in play."

Coburn, a gaunt, towering man with the face of an Indian brave, makes a good case for himself in the role of Jefferson Durain in NBC-TV's successor to "Peter Gunn," the saga of Alaska called "Klondike."

He portrays a slick con man who could weasel the buffalo off your nickel if you didn't listen closely.

Coburn, a onetime choir boy in his hometown of Laurel, Neb., finds the part of Jefferson Durain very comfortable.

"He was the greatest. He had

Skagway in his hip pocket during the Gold Rush. We kind of play these people in 'Klondike' as caricatures. It takes off the curse of killing and violence which you see so much of now.

"Maybe it's a trend, where people are finding things ought to be more humorous. People would rather laugh, I believe," Coburn theorized.

His judgment stands on such sound training as time spent with Jeff Corey, one of the coaching giants of Hollywood, and Stella Adler, another famed teacher.

TAKES THEATRICAL LEAP

Coburn took the theatrical leap about 10 years ago after graduating from Compton Junior College just outside Los Angeles. He enrolled in Los Angeles City College, which boasts one of the fine dramatic departments in the nation.

Then it was the usual seasoning period in New York, the off-Broadway circuit where a man has to swing a competent hammer as well as deliver a well-turned line.

After a spell with his own repertory company, the American Theater Assn., Coburn returned to Hollywood two years ago.

He has had it good in television, working four-fifths of the time and making money.

Honest Policeman In "Naked City"

If you watch late movies regularly, you're undoubtedly familiar with Horace McMahon, typecast as the shifty-eyed, bad-tempered gangster.

On "Naked City" the hour-long weekly ABC-TV series, Wednesday nights, you'll find an entirely different McMahon. In the series he plays the part of a staunch, uncompromising, honest police lieutenant.

When did McMahon go straight?

"The switch came when I auditioned for a Broadway show called 'Detective Story,'" said the actor. "Till then, I'd been typecast in Hollywood for 15 years as a hood. But the producers gave me the role of Lt. Monaghan, the tough chief of the detective squad, and I've been on the right side of the law ever since."

WON "EDGAR" AWARD

The "Detective Story" role won McMahon the annual "Edgar" award of the Mystery Writers of America for the best performance in a thriller. It also led to his present "Naked City" assignment.

During "Naked City's" first season, star John McIntire was forced to quit the show for personal reasons. Producer Herbert B. Leonard, searching frantically for a replacement, recalled McMahon's "Detective Story" performance and signed him.

"Rather than take over for McIntire, I created a new character," said McMahon. "He's called Mike Parker and he's a real tough cop who won't take back talk from anyone."

It's McMahon's contention that television cops make more money than hoodlums.

"As a villain, chances are you'll

Police trio. Horace McMahon, Eli Wallach and Paul Burke in "Naked City"

be bumped off or at best tossed in jail at the end of a show," he explained. "But the cops come back week after week, and that's money in the bank."

Strangers are usually surprised to find the actor soft-spoken and gentlemanly off-screen.

"It's this broken nose of mine that started it all," he explained.

"My aunt used to run a boarding house up in Yonkers, N. Y., right near the summer theater. Most of her paying guests were actors. That was in 1927, a big year for cops and robbers on Broadway, and they insisted that with my face, I couldn't miss."

So young McMahon took his broken nose to a broken down little theater group in Freeport, L. I., and shared starvation wages with a group of aspiring performers — including a cocky young Irishman named Spencer Tracy.

26 GANGSTERS MOVIES

After appearing in "Sailor Beware" and "Three Men on a Horse" on Broadway, McMahon traveled to Hollywood in 1936. His first year on the West Coast was a busy one. He made 26 gangster movies.

"In that year, I was machine-gunned, knifed, beaten up and thrown in the clink more than any other actor in the business," he noted. "They had a standing joke at one studio. Whenever I was hired, the wardrobe department automatically cleaned and pressed a convict's suit for me."

The ultimate result of all this hoodlumism came while McMahon was vacationing in Chicago in 1937. He was touring the loop with his wife, actress Louise Campbell, when two burly law officers arrested him.

"What's going on?" asked McMahon.

ON "WANTED LIST"

"I've seen your face before," said one policeman. "If you're not on our wanted list, I'll miss my guess."

There were apologies all around when the officer realized where he had last seen McMahon — at a movie house showing the actor in one of his more brutal gangster roles.

"Now that I'm a cop," said McMahon, "I should be able to keep out of trouble."

McMahon's biggest problem in "Naked City," is keeping up with a hectic shooting schedule.

RACING THE CLOCK

"Most of the show is done on location in New York," he said, "and the last few weeks we've been racing the clock to make up for time lost by the writer's stroke. One day I spent ten hours running in and out of the bodies of old, rusted cars in a junkyard in Manhattan. I've got cuts, bruises, and bumps all over my anatomy."

"But that's nothing compared to the time we shot a sequence on a pier off the Hudson River during a cold snap. The temperature didn't go above 20 degrees all day, and there were three or four of us who had to take a few leaps in and out of the river. I darn near froze to

FOOD FOR THOUGHT
By Marshall Tuckey

Corn is a large part of American culinary lore. When the early settlers landed, the Indians introduced them to their staple food. It was corn, of more properly called "maize." It was a new food to the settlers. Now 300 years later, we're producing nearly 3½ billion bushels of it annually. We now have corn fresh, frozen, cream-style or on-the-cob all year round. No self-respecting picnic, barbecue or clambake is complete without fresh corn-on-the-cob, dripping with scads of melted butter.
